DEDICATION

The 1965 INDIAN staff, with great pride in Arkansas State College and its students, dedicates this yearbook to three young men who have attained a certain greatness that is inherent in all A-State students. These three men, through their athletic prowess, their determination and competitive spirit, have accomplished no mean task—they have shown they are worthy of being singled out as the best in their individual sport and have accepted the honor with humility. Through their actions on and off the field of battle, they have represented Arkansas State in many sections of the country as good will ambassadors. They have helped to make known the good name of Arkansas State far and wide. Thus with the knowledge that very few colleges ever have one All-American, much less three at the same time, we hereby dedicate this edition of the INDIAN to our three All-Americans—JERRY ROOK, DAN SUMMERS AND GEORGE GLENN. Never have so few done so much for so many.

Arkansas State Provides Many Experiences

Life at Arkansas State for most students is anything but dull. Activities abound, whether they might include rooting for the Indians at a game, attending a play or a variety of shows put on by campus groups, passing time in the new Reng Center or just walking between classes with a special friend. In fact, the time usually passes so fast that many wish for more hours in the day. Most important are the solid relationships built in one's spare time.

GO INDIANS!—The fine quality of A-State's athletic teams gave the students plenty to cheer about all year.

DAY DREAMING—Even with that test tomorrow, she can't get her mind off the approaching weekend.

TGIF CLUB—Weekends take their time rolling around and leave quickly, but students still enjoy releasing the week's tensions.

PART OF LIFE—The new Reng Center quickly became a vital part of life at A-State as a focal point of vigorous activity.

WINTER WONDERLAND—Snow seldom comes as far south as Arkansas State but when it does, the campus is covered with an atmosphere that can't be matched for beauty in the north.

Among the many VIP's visiting the campus during the year were Miss Karen Carlson, Miss Arkansas, and Colonel John (Shorty) Powers, the voice of Mercury Control.

LIFE IN THE CARL R. RENG CENTER

Carl R. Reng Center Is New Dimension In Comfort, Beauty

The center hub of all A-State student activity, this massive maze of lounges, offices, recreation centers and cafeteria facilities has changed, remapped the student's way of life.

Long halls, huge rooms, friendly faces—the Carl R. Reng Center is the nucleus of campus life. It is the place where one comes to eat, to rest, and to play. Rarely does one pass the day without coming here for some reason, simply because there is so much here. The largest and best equipped union of its kind in Arkansas, it hosts not only students but civic groups and state organizations in a large variety of meetings and conferences. The union is first choice of student groups that want complete privacy and the best in meeting facilities. It is a complete small city in itself, with scores of employees tending and fixing, cooking and cleaning. Best of all, it is a place where one can bring the family and feel a real pride.

LATE AFTERNOON—finds the Reng Center seemingly resting for the new flurry of activity later on in the evening.

ONE EXPECTS—the best in good eating and fine service here, and is seldom disappointed.

FAVORITE PASTIME—Old Wigwam sport revived

GOODIES—Eyes light up and stomach growls

CONVENIENCE—Step around the corner for a trim

WORLD SERIES
—draws a tremendous student following

Food, Fun And

Room To Relax

Where do you go when you meet a friend? Where do you go to relax and do what you want to? Where do you eat, bowl, shoot pool, vote, dance, almost anything?—the Reng Center. Its friendly, yet dignified atmosphere makes college an experience to be enjoyed, a life set apart from any in the student's memory. It was a long time coming, but it is now as much a part of student life as if it had been the first building built on the campus. Soft music, restful colors, comfortable couches, and other students make this a haven for those seeking companionship and a place to get away from the grind of a day's classes. It's there for everyone, and the way the parking lot stays jammed, everyone knows it.

MAINTENANCE—Big business here.

FORM—Bowling proved popular.

DIGGING IN—Emily would be proud.

Students Find It All A-OK In Center

Where else can one find luxury and convenience that abounds in such abundance?

Students have very little to complain about in their day to day experiences in the Reng Center. Every once in a while a student voices his own opinion about how this should have been built, or how that should have been run, but it's mighty hard not to appreciate it all.

SPECIAL GUESTS—of the administration dine in these surroundings.

TV ATTRACTION—The main lounge, complete with fireplace and television gains the most following on special occasions.

Time Out For A Pace Breaker

LAUGHTER—is good for what ails you.

MALE-FEMALE—relations are anything but hampered by the comfortable surroundings.

When Finals are over, or when classes drag it's time to lay down the books and hit the Reng Center. There will never be absolutely nothing to do or no one there—it's just not like that. Youth demands that one mingle with one's fellow student, and it's hard not to find someone you know or would like to know. Friendships are started, people are introduced and plenty of loafing time is worked in between studies. But then, what better place to loaf or just be with people like oneself. The student body has taken the big step with the school, and it counts itself lucky to be the ones to be involved in the tremendous expansion program which is just now getting into high gear. There's a lot more to come. And when it does come, the students will be ready and willing.

FEATURES

HOMECOMING

'64

BIG DAY—Sue Stewart performs and reigns before a capacity crowd.

HARD WEEK—It's work, play, see old friends and finally it's done.

RAIN, RAIN—Queen Sue Stewart and her maids of honor receive much-needed help in the form of umbrellas from their escorts.

Busy Time Gets Busier

*A time when there's not enough time; a week of joy and frustration;
a chance for the folks to see their offspring's new home;
a long awaited alumni get-together to remember their old home.
In '74 the anguish and sweat will be forgotten. We'll all be back if we can and remember everything good that happened.*

Displays Beat Rain—Barely

Mechanical division first place was copped this year by Lambda Chi Alpha. Displays began to feel the effects of an all-night light sprinkle by game time, but visitors were able to see the myriad displays in action Friday afternoon and night. A major worry every year is the weather, which can create havoc in a matter of minutes in what was once a gigantic project involving nearly every member of every participating organization on campus. Exhibits are judged at noon on the Friday before the game, and the three divisions—stationary, stationary with lights, and mechanical—continue to grow as more and more groups organize and become active. It's an amazing example of cooperation.

Variety In Exhibits

FINISHING TOUCHES—by a cardboard carpenter.

SECOND PLACE—Cherokee Mens Council tracks 'em down.

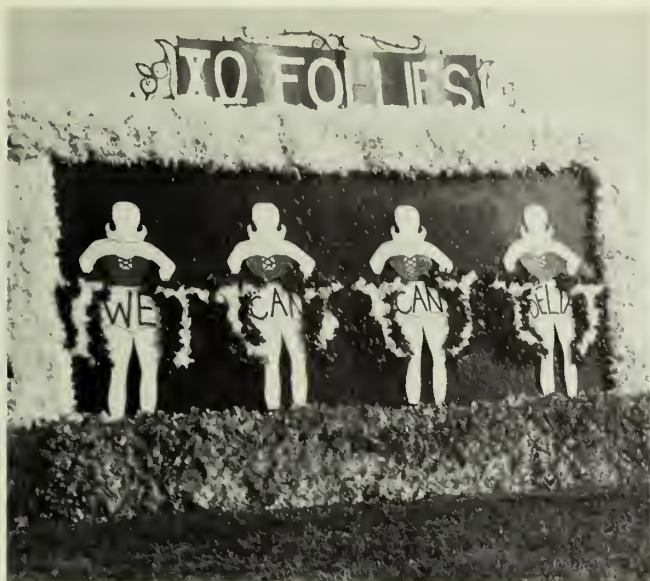

CHUG-A-LUG—Sigma Pi feeds the Statesmen white lightning in hopes of an A-State victory. Stupified opponent settles into the dust.

STATESMANBURGERS—First place stationery with lights winner, Alpha Gamma Delta predicts an "in the bag" Homecoming victory.

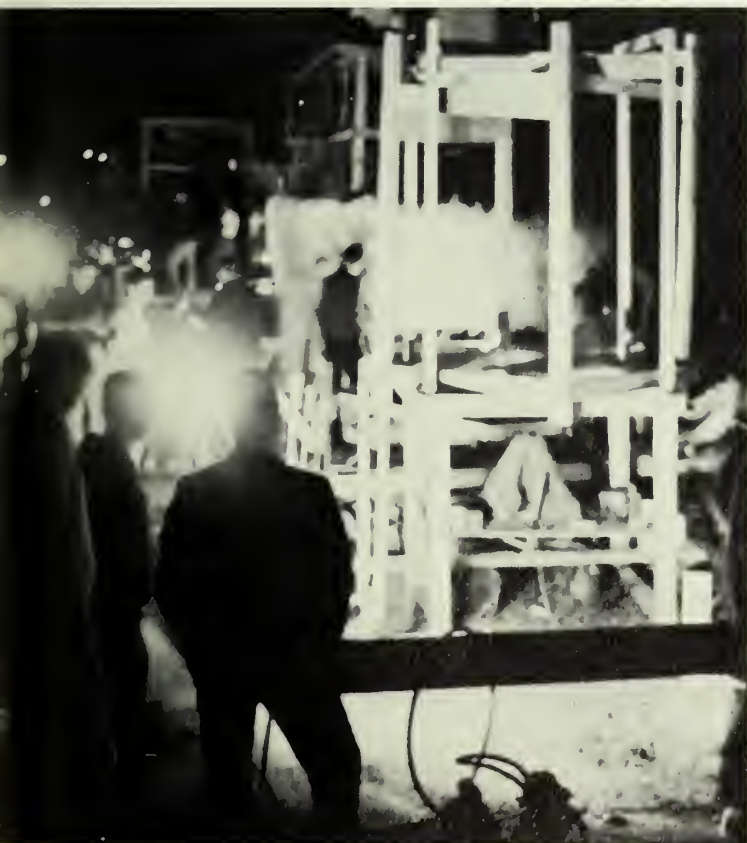

CHI O FOLLIES—took a third place in lighted, stationary.

Confusion Persists To A Degree

BOBBING HEADS—Clyde gets nasty with the invaders, for a Sigma Phi Epsilon third place mechanical trophy.

ALL-NIGHT SESSION—Sidewalk superintendents review the work.

SMOKE BREAK—Wire and napkins begin to take shape, but somebody had to build the frame first. Somebody had to tear it all down, too.

Show Goes On Despite Drenching

It would have taken more than a drenching rain to dampen Homecoming spirit at Arkansas State. The Indians took the field undefeated and left with one more notch on the pole. The Marching Indian Football band presented another tremendous performance—which surprised no one. Fans turned out in droves under a sea of umbrellas to witness an outstanding grid contest which moved the Redmen closer to an undefeated season. Alumni flocked to special dinners and meetings, parents marvelled at the ultra-modern additions to the campus, and everyone just almost forgot that it had been raining most of the time. That night the annual dance honoring the victory was the setting for awarding the display trophies. It was, in all, a big day for Arkansas State. Sunday found the campus asleep.

DEAN MOORE—receives award for work on the alumni file.

EVERYBODY COMES—Parents, family, friends—nobody misses the big game come rain, sleet or snow. Folks even drove from Florida to see their sons play.

WE WORKED—It wasn't easy.

TRIPLE DUEL—Mike Overall, senior, leads the featured drummers in a special number.

Queen Sue Has Wet Coronation

Pre-game ceremony featured the crowning of a pretty, talented young coed—the feature twirler of the Marching Indians—Sue Stewart of Piggott. A light drizzle prevented the court from riding open convertibles around the field, but all eyes were on the coronation, with Student Government president Bill Ennis doing the honors. Then it was on to a tough victory.

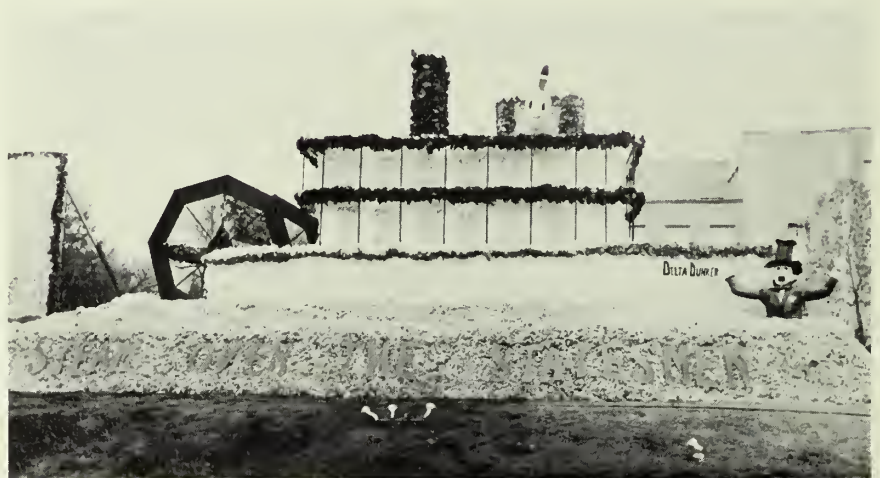

TENSIONS RELIEVED—Students let their hair down after a week of worry and no sleep. The new Ballroom proved a great place to "rock out."

Celebrations End Hard Week

After the long week and the grand defensive clash on the battlefield, students were more than happy to forsake all and celebrate. As is the case every year, they all forgot that anything that goes up must come down—including displays. It was a weary lot who struggled out of the sack to demolish in hours what took days to build. Someday someone will invent a collapsable, pre-fab model. Until then, there's always another day, a new idea and an eager crew who is certain that they can build it bigger and better than ever.

COLORFUL DISPLAY—This one sold the Statesmen down the river.

STRAIGHTSHOOTER—Indian Joe's target practice.

PROBLEMS—"Will an electric shaver motor turn it?"

WINNERS—receive display awards

Final Moments Of Importance

The last day of activities was the culmination of a great deal of planning and preparation, and then quickly it was over. Awards were taken by the winners, alumni were honored and fed, a tremendous ballgame was won and through it all the weather remained indifferent. Next year, new faces, new winners, a brand new batch of anxious alumni, and the hope for another just as successful Homecoming for Arkansas State.

Life At

A - State

Life At

A - State

Life At

A - State

MAD RUSH—"Let's see now. That's Steinseek, isn't it, or is it Stanzeick? Stensack? Aw, we know you. Go vote!"

KICKOFF—New Deal standard bearers Dennis, Ennis and Swihart flash the Colgate grins as the ordeal begins. Little do they realize what is in store for prospective officers who have to reach a small city of students.

SAMPLE BALLOT FOR THE •NEW DEAL•

WEARY WINNERS?—An extra surge of ecstasy prevails as fatigue is pushed aside for a victory ride. Shortly after, beaming faces again give way to sighs of "No, not me!—never, never again!"

CONVINCING TWIN—Bill Ennis poses with himself, (a cardboard likeness which drew much comment as highly original).

Elections Spawn Ghosts, Heavy Vote

On a dreaded, dreary day, culminated by the University Status Party threatening to bury the New Deal, the Student Government Association spring elections came about. New Deal strategists in the form of undead ghosts apparently scared up enough voters to bring an edge over the University Status Seekers. The week had been twice as gruelling, twice as long as any normal week, and the victors as well as their opponents breathed a long and sincere sigh of relief. The price of victory had been high. Harried candidates, their aching jaw muscles crying for mercy, looked as if they had crawled out from under the "living candidates" display. Justification for this self-inflicted torture comes only when results are seen. Next year, a new spark for the losers, a new threat for the incumbents; it is an unpredictable cycle that breeds premature ulcers for any and all who succumb to political fever.

DEAFENING CHEERS—Dean Robert Moore plays grin and bear it with the noisy victors.

OPPOSITION—This effective display revealed other opinions of a renewed campaign slogan.

Campus Leaders Discuss New Issues

Arkansas State's growing pains were evident in the size and mood of the annual leadership retreat. Student interest in university-size problems ran high, and new ideas flew like never before. The last night, after discussion periods, guitar strings were strummed until frayed down at the lake. After several unexpected morning dips, the troupe returned to help shape the coming school year. No laws were made, no final decisions arrived at, but each attending representative returned sensing the event's success.

RECKONING DAY—A newly elected SGA prexy can always look forward to leaving the retreat thoroughly bathed. Bill Ennis is no exception to the rule, and after an extremely short deliberation by the vigilante committee, his fate was determined. A surprise ending followed this sequence, with everybody getting in the act.

GUEST—D. Whitney Halladay, Dean of Students at the U of A, tells of similar problems.

WEARINESS—Miss Stroud sees a few logs.

BREAK TIME—Student leaders and faculty alike take a quick breather between sessions.

TOP BRASS—Administrators and department heads enjoy talking straight across the table to future student leaders.

UNDERSTANDING—No room for shy violets here. Problems are hashed and often there are no punches pulled.

LEAP FOR FROSH—A-State skydiver Elroy Cantrell comes to the ground after diving on the Reng Center Lawn.

Freshmen Get Word, Are Introduced To A-State

Nothing is quite so new as a college to a freshman. The big stepdown from the authority of a high school senior to the humbleness of the first year student at college can really be disconcerting to anyone. Despite the confusion of the first week, Arkansas State's newness quickly becomes routine and the beanies somehow disappear.

FIRST DIVISION—The enormity of the freshman class makes it necessary for divisions and assignments.

NEW FACES—Freshmen get their first encounter with administration, faculty and campus leaders.

INCENTIVE—Dean Moore provides the direction during the orientation.

DIVIDED AUDIENCE—Some listen intently, others have their minds in different places.

TIME OUT!—Forget the long meetings and bewildering details, it's time to rock!

Wonderland Winter

DRAPED IN WHITE—the beautiful Dean B. Ellis Library stands quietly in the early morning following the night's snowfall. Soon a young, rosy-cheeked horde, breath visible in the cold, will storm the doors in the excitement of final exams and the welcomed mid-semester break.

A time of meditation, a world of unprecedented beauty--winter at Arkansas State. Cold toes, warm bed; frigid seat covers, and a frosty windshield; penetrating wind, stepping in a thawing mud-hole; hot chocolate and rousing basketball games. Excitement, a noisy radiator; exuberation and a deep breath of the crisp, fresh morning air. A time to enjoy life.

LONELY NOW—the noise and people are gone, leaving the field to rest and recover from a hard and profitable season.

SNOW TIME—bust a photographer

ICY TREES—are particularly beautiful; one can't resist a touch.

UNSPOILED BEAUTY—Seldom does the campus display such strange beauty as when the snow comes.

Talent Contest Displays Wide Variety Of Student Talent

Variety was the spice of the Alpha Gamma Delta benefit talent show. Talent entries included a drum-accompanied vocal solo, an abundance of folk singers and a female impersonation of Shelley Berman. Marcia Harrell emceed the event and Sandy Daugherty, president of the Alpha Gams, presented trophies to the Brothers of the Crescent, a vocal and instrumental group sponsored by Lambda Chi Alpha, for first place; Willis Campbell and Bill Winter for second place; and Linda Berry and Art Stewart for third place. The large crowd which attended the annual event acclaimed it as the best ever. Both the quality and the quantity of the entertainment presented in the show were outstanding.

HAPPY PAIR—Art Stewart and Linda Berry are all smiles as they display their third place trophy.

STRING STRUMMIN'—Good folk groups like these livened the talent show.

Drama, Light Humor Featured In Plays

WINNING PERFORMANCE—Alpha Gamma Delta and Pi Kappa Alpha teamed up on the winning performance.

MORALITY ISSUE—Morality was the key in "Impromptu," which was presented by the Tekes and the AOPi's.

Poetic fantasy, tragedy and concern for the human race were each expressed in turn in "Aria da Capo," a one-act play which won first place in the annual Phi Mu Benefit Playhouse. The play, presented by Alpha Gamma Delta sorority and Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity, emphasized man's pettiness and selfishness and exaggerated life's trivialities. Trophies were given to representatives of both groups by Becky Bridges, Phi Mu president, and Mary Ann Bartlett, who served as emcee. Each sorority and fraternity participated in the event. Proceeds from the Playhouse went to the hospital, the U.S.S. Hope (Health Opportunity for People Everywhere).

SANDBOX—Pi Kappa Alpha and Phi Mu, the hostess organization, combined in a play called, "Sandbox."

MELODRAMA—Lambda Chi Alpha and Chi Omega presented a melodrama entitled "Poison, Passion and Petraction."

TRAPPED—Members of Sigma Pi acted out "Submerged," a story of six men trapped in a submarine.

JUBILANT WINNERS—Mary Ann Bartlett, left, emcee, and Becky Bridges, Phi Mu president, award handsome trophies to Barbara Thompson and Butch Corbett, representatives of Alpha Gamma Delta and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

GOOD TIDINGS—LXA members sing at Yule party.

CHILLY VIEW—Band members see the end of the parade.

Christmas—Season of Good Will

BEAUTY—Pretty Cindy Williams rides high in the parade.

STICK 'EM UP—It was often hard to tell who enjoyed the toys more—kids or collectors.

HOW!—A State Indian family as well as the horse ride through downtown Jonesboro.

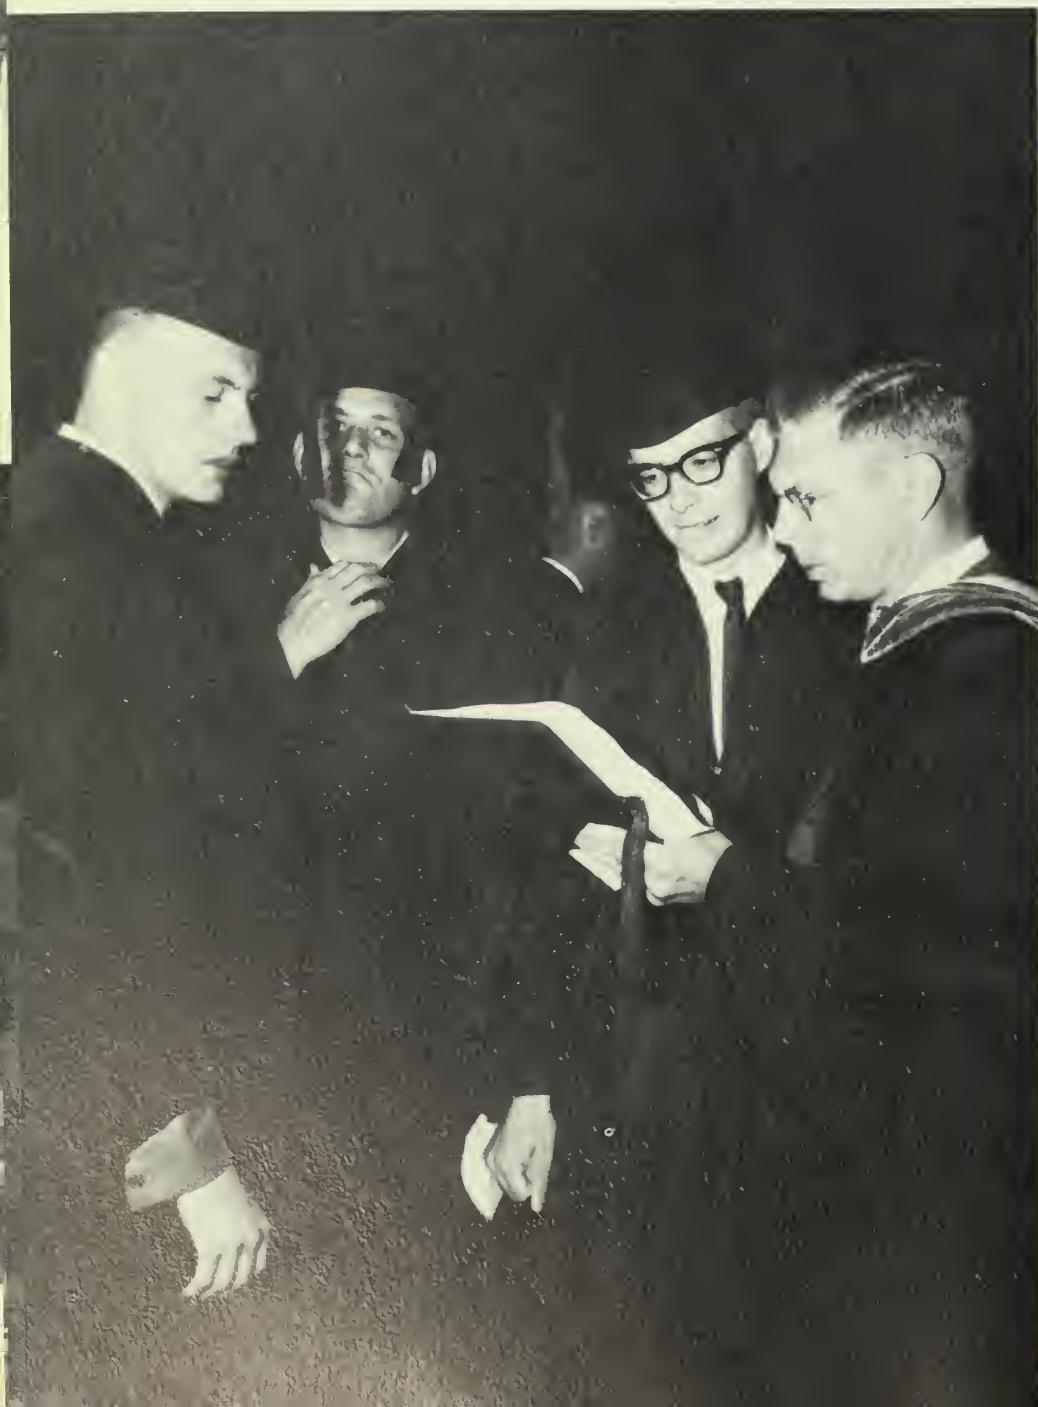

ROYALTY—Ray Ball was elected St. Nick for the annual dance and Jeanne Shields, center, was Miss Merry Christmas. AWS President Sally Baker presents gifts to the couple.

LONG BLACK LINE—Mixed feelings, but unmistakable pride.

SMALL TALK—before the ceremony soothes the nerves.

For the seniors, graduation was a day which culminated four years of work, joys and sorrows. For them graduation meant laying aside old friends and memories and looking forward to the future. The parents and friends present offered congratulations to the seniors with great pride on this attainment of a worthy goal. Rainy weather forced the ceremonies to be moved inside the field house.

WIDE GRINS—greet Dr. Reng and what he holds.

Way Of Life Ends In Last Flurry

ANXIOUSLY—the graduating class of 1964 waits.

HUNDREDS—of graduates and their families pack the A-State Fieldhouse for the words that suddenly end a way of life.

ENCOURAGEMENT—from Mrs. Webb to children Emily and Wally to eat a good breakfast before school.

WEDDING—between two high school sweethearts, (Dennis Evans and Joedi Wyllie).

THE CAST— Vic Burdin, Tyler Million, Dennis Evans, Anita Weedman, Bill Morrow, Elroy Cantrell, Gene Worthen, Frenzil Evans, Art Stewart, David Vines, Bill Stewart, and Kay Carter.

MAKE-UP—A student actress must learn every phase of her field. Here Joedi Wyllie applies her own face make-up.

'Our Town' Proves Tops

Drama instructors come and go, and when Dave Ritchey came, a so-what attitude prevailed among the non-theatrical students. Then came the production of "Our Town." It was Mr. Ritchey's trial by audience. From the moment the curtain went up a certain professionalism was noticeable, and by the final curtain, the audience had been caught up, completely involved in much the same powerful enthusiasm that he injects into his work. And from what is evident in his later productions, "Our Town" was only the beginning of a long string of topnotch theatre entertainment for Arkansas State, via Mr. Ritchey.

AMUSING ROLES—A caustic newspaper editor (Bill Morrow) talks with the town drunk (Elroy Cantrell), while the friendly constable (Vic Burdin) looks on disapprovingly.

FATHERLY ADVICE—from pop to future son (Dennis Evans).

SPECULATION—on the universe by brother and sister (Frezil Ellis).

Who's Who

In American Colleges And Universities

SALLY LYNN DENNIS, a former Miss Arkansas State and Homecoming maid, is a member of Chi Omega sorority, Alpha Sigma Upsilon, AWS, WAA and Tri-beta. She served in the Student Government Association.

BILL ENNIS is one of the best known men-about-campus. Bill won a position as Student Government representative, liked it, and went on to become president of the organization. Memberships include Cherokee Men's Council and Alpha Kappa Psi.

SHELBY LEE, quarterback for the Indians, won the scholarship award for football players. An English major, he has served as a graduate assistant at Arkansas State. His memberships include Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity and Featherpens.

PHIL PICKLE is a hard man to find. One of the most active students on campus, Phil has served as the College's photographer throughout his tenure at A-State. He is manager of the Tepee and a Lambda Chi Alpha member.

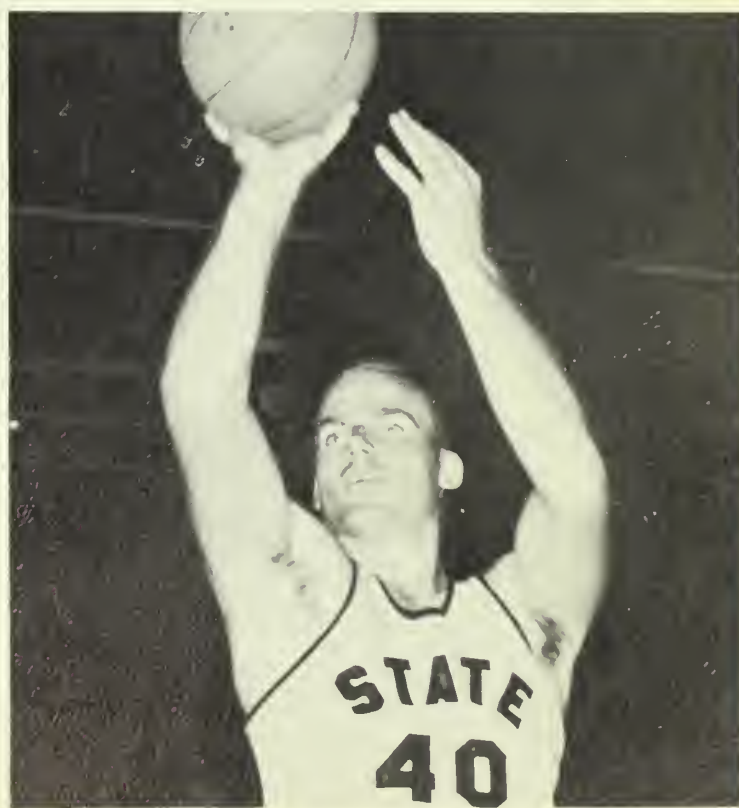

BECKY BRIDGES, aside from her high scholastic achievements, is very active in Greek life. She has served as president of Phi Mu sorority and the A-State Panhellenic Council.

JANNA HELMS, whose major is accounting, has been president of the Panhellenic Council and a member of Chi Omega sorority. She has also participated in Alpha Sigma Upsilon and Pi Omega Pi.

ROBERT DOAK, who has distinguished himself with consistent high grades, is also a member of Lambda Chi Alpha. He has served the fraternity as vice president and has been active in intramural sports.

JERRY ROOK, the Tribe's All-American basketball star, set six school records in his college career. He is the first cager in A-State history to score 2,000 points. Holding the Indian all-time high scoring average (25.2), he was a unanimous All-SLC choice.

J. B. PENN has been especially active in the A-State Agriculture Department. He holds membership in the Agri Club, Delta Tau Alpha and Future Farmers of America. He was also an SGA representative.

JEANNINE McHANEY, whose major field of study is Physical Education, has also gained membership in Pi Gamma Mu, Alpha Sigma Upsilon, AWS, WAA, SGA and PEMM Club. She was very active in her social fraternity, Phi Mu.

SANDRA DOUGHERTY set a hectic pace of activity during her four years at Arkansas State, but managed to excel in the many organizations in which she took part. Her grades earned her membership in the Freshmen Women's Honorary Scholastic Society while her leadership gained her a post at the Presidents' Roundtable. She is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta, SGA, Pi Omega Pi and Phi Beta Lambda.

LAVON WELLS, a general agriculture major, has served as president of Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity. He was also active in his fraternity's intramural sports program. A student of many interests, Lavon was also an SGA representative. He was chosen as sponsor by Alpha Omega Pi sorority members.

Who's Who In American Colleges And Universities

JOEL GAMBILL, the roving senior who represented the Arkansas State News Bureau on the Indians' athletic journeys for two years, is the other half of the Herald co-editor team. In his four years at A-State, Joel has written and edited many articles about life on the campus. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity, which he served as editor and correspondent. He is also in Phi Eta Sigma, Pi Gamma Mu and Press Club.

VAL JEAN COLLIER, an English major whose grades and leadership earned her high standing in her department, plans to teach English in senior high school in the future. She is a member of Featherpens and BSU.

GLEND A DANIEL, better known as "Madam Editor," is the pride of the Journalism Department. She has served as co-editor of the State College Herald for two years. In addition, Glenda is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, Featherpens, Alpha Sigma Upsilon, Spanish Club, AWS, WAA, Alpha Lambda Delta, Baptist Student Union and Presidents' Roundtable. Her journalistic interests extend to radio, too, for she is also a member of the KASU Broadcasters' Club.

HUGH HYDE, an accounting major, is a member of the honorary Alpha Kappa Psi fraternity, Cherokee Men's Council and Pershing Rifles. He has participated in the Presidents' Roundtable.

Who's Who In American Colleges And Universities

FULTON HUXTABLE, whose political interests helped start the A-State Young Republicans Club, has been an active member of the debate team. An English major, he is a Featherpens member.

ANN PARKER has been president of Alpha Omicron Pi and an officer in Alpha Sigma Upsilon and AWS. She gained membership in the Freshmen Women's Honorary Scholastic Society as well as the Featherpens, Panhellenic Council, WAA and Young Republicans. Her major was accounting.

JOHN ERWIN'S high-stepping Drum Major routines have enhanced the A-State halftime shows for two years. Along with directing the Indian Marching Band, John has also shown his musical talent in the ASC Singers and served as Choral Union student director. He is a former president of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

JANE FOSTER was A-State's "busy girl." An active Phi Mu sorority member and elementary education major, she still found time for membership in SGA, AWS, WAA, SNEA, Social Science Club and Young Democrats. Jane also served as a class editor on the Indian staff.

MARY VENDA WADE demonstrated her musical talents on numerous occasions. Both a singer and pianist, she participated in many A-State talent events. In conjunction with her fine arts interests, she has been a member of the Music Education National Conference. A former president of Chi Omega, she has also taken part in Alpha Sigma Upsilon and Kappa Delta Pi.

PEGGY HUNTER, who has held a seat on the Presidents' Roundtable, is a member of Chi Omega sorority. She is also active in Alpha Sigma Upsilon, Kappa Delta Pi, SNEA, WAA, AWS, Young Republicans and the Arkansas State debate team. Her major field of study was elementary education.

DIGGING IT OUT—Serious prep for a concert is a must.

DIRECTOR DON—"Don't anybody move!"

Marching Indians Steal The Show

FEATURE TWIRLER—Sue Stewart of Piggott.

STALWART FANS—the Marching Indians are always there, always better.

Well into his second decade as director of A-State bands, Mr. Donald R. Minx continues to build and to guide this top-performing organization to greater things. Again this year, honors befell the group in the form of an invitation to present a part of the half-time ceremonies at a Cardinal pro football game televised live over national networks in St. Louis' Busch Stadium. Apparently the excellence of the Marching Indian Football Band is becoming justifiably famous.

SOUL IN A HORN—Mr. John Alexander, assistant band director, takes a chorus, and begins an adventure that only the musician can live, that of improvisation, true musical creation with a meaning very special to the improviser, and those who would enter his world.

EVERY MIND ALERT—Arkansas' best collegiate band is ready to present its concert.

CHRISTMAS—and drum major John Erwin conducts for the annual parade.

LITTLE WONDER—that the half-time shows are what they are. Ever sit in on an average practice?

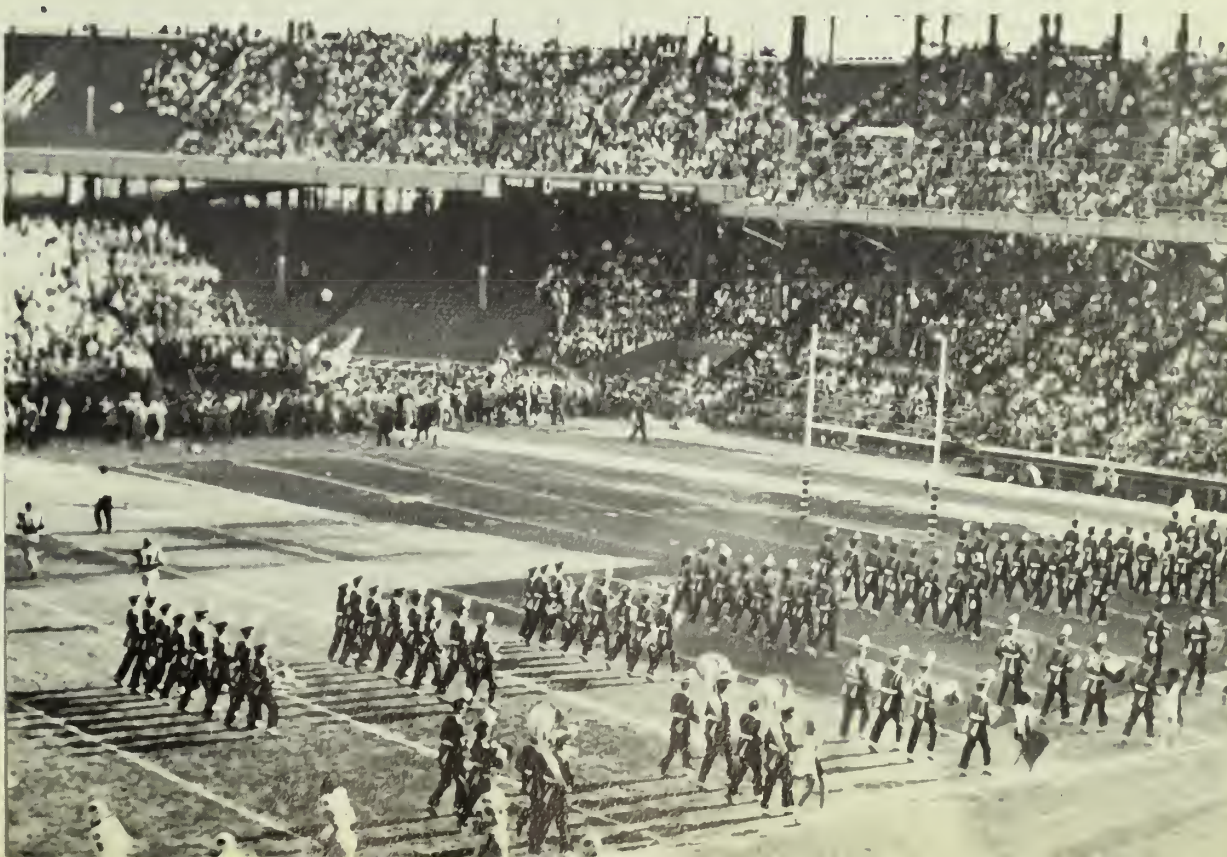

PLANNING THE BIG ONE—Mr. Minx, Mr. Alexander, and Dan F. Howard, art instructor who helped chaperone, check show details before the trip to St. Louis and Busch Stadium.

THE BIG ONE—and countless Sunday afternoon T.V. viewers see what a real half-time show looks like.

'Miracle Worker' Second Major Production

*"At another time she asked, 'What is a soul?'
'No one knows,' I replied; 'but we know it is not the body, and it is that part of us which thinks and lives and hopes' . . . and is invisible . . . 'But if I write what my soul thinks,' she said, 'then it will be visible, and the words will be its body.'"*

—Annie Sullivan, 1891

"The Miracle Worker" by William Gibson was the second major production of the year for the theatre department. The play deals with the deaf and blind Helen Keller and her teacher Annie Sullivan. Helen, trapped in her own secret world, is bitter, violent, spoiled, and at first, almost animal-like. Only Annie realizes that there is a mind waiting to be rescued from that dark tortured silence. Only after some of the most violent scenes in modern theatre does she succeed.

ART STEWART—as the doctor, tells Captain and Mrs. Keller, John Masterson and Lauren White Wyatt, that their baby daughter Helen will recover from the fever.

THE KELLERS—Prepare to eat one of the three meals served in the course of the play.

Seated (top to bottom)—John Masterson, JoAnne Mason, Ann Reid, Lauren White Wyatt, Linda Berry, and Bill Morrow.

FORCED—to eat from a plate by Annie after the family has left, Helen rebels time and again. In a moving scene she finally submits to Annie's persistence.

NEARLY BLIND—Annie Sullivan is presented gifts as she leaves the Perkins Institute for the Blind. Blind students are Val Jean Collier, Mary Blair Shaw, Lee Breithaupt and Kathie Barr.

BILL MORROW—as Helen's half-brother is brought to the floor by his father when he makes a comment about his new mother-in-law, Lauren White Wyatt.

MISCHIEVIOUS—Helen produces the key to her room which she had hidden from her teacher, Annie. Pump prop, as well as other effects were remarkably realistic.

Lambda Chi, Chi O

Capture Firsts

In AOPi Songfest

Long weeks of practice, anticipation and more practice were culminated in the annual Alpha Omicron Pi All-Greek Songfest. The sorority and fraternity groups gave entertaining renditions of numbers ranging from Latin chants to lively folk tunes and religious selections. Lambda Chi Alpha won first place among the fraternities, its fifth straight in as many years, and Tau Kappa Epsilon took second. The top trophy for the sorority division went to Chi Omega, while Phi Mu was awarded the second place prize. Several numbers by an All-Greek choir, under the direction of Alfred Skoog, ended the evening.

SMILING WINNERS—Bettye Holland (left) of Chi Omega sorority and John Erwin of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity receive trophies from Delores Robinson who served as mistress of ceremonies.

NUMBER FIVE—John Erwin, in his third year as director of Lambda Chi's songfest group, leads the fraternity to its fifth straight triumph.

ROAD TO VICTORY—Chi Omega sorority sang "Mister Banjo" and "The Water Is Wide" on its way to the first place trophy for sororities.

ALL-GREEK CHORUS—Alfred Skoog directs a chorus made up of singers from each of the fraternities and sororities. The chorus sang a number of selections to end the program.

HAPPY MOMENT—Julia Ann Oxner receives the honorable mention award for Phi Mu sorority and shows her excitement.

ARKADIANS—(left to right, front row): Lindell Hudson, Jerry Butler, Elroy Cantrell, Bob Thomas, Henry Foster, Jerry Schaeffer, James Bingham, Gary Smith, Bill Henderson, (second row): Bruce Jackson, Ken Hartsfield, Richard Bishop, Gary Smith, Bryon Gregory, Jack Marvin, David Vines, Roger Steele, Charles Dawson, Danny Faulk, Leigh Robicheaux, Wesley Miller, Calvin Smith, David Flatt, Tom Power; (back row): Fred Joslin, Sandy Stanfield, Wayne Jacobs, Dewayne Faulkner, Robert Mustain, Johnny Kirk, Gary Parker, Lloyd Lewallen, Roger Ferguson, Marvin Hampton, Nicky Snow, Guido Hassin, Tom Phillips.

SOCIALIZING—The basic reasons for the formation of the Statemen's Club were the social and fraternal benefits which have been reaped during the group's first year on campus.

Arkadians, Statesmen Add To Social Life

With the great increase in student enrollment in recent years at A-State, the need was felt for more social groups. For that purpose, two organizations, one called the Statesmen and the other the Arkadians, came into being. Both clubs grew stronger as the year continued and both appear to be headed for successful tenures on campus. Both have the necessary support behind them.

SHOWING OFF—Their clubroom only recently finished, the Arkadians give a party and open house for members of Chi Omega sorority.

FINISHING TOUCHES—The Arkadians fill in the last details on their dance decorations.

MILLING AROUND—It's time to meet people at one of the Statesmen's rush parties.

Lecture-Concert Series

Shown above is the Memphis Symphony Orchestra, under the capable baton of Director and Conductor, Vincent de Frank, in the Indian Fieldhouse.

Efforts to stimulate the aesthetic values of Arkansas State students and the area populace were met with enthusiasm as the 1964-65 Lecture Concert Series began another highly successful season. Outstanding individuals from all areas—the arts, theatre, education, government, literature, and religion—are incorporated to permit an entertaining and informative insight.

DREW PEARSON—an outstanding American columnist and commentator, is greeted by SGA prexy Bill Ennis, prior to his talk.

*"Man, that was a great audience;
they liked everything!"*

"Yeah, and a great bunch of kids, too."

"What do you think of the campus?"

"It's sharp! Those new dorms—man, they're like some motels we've stayed in —better than some."

"And the Reng Center?"

"Great!"

"It's the nicest Student Union we've seen at any of the small colleges and most of the major ones that we've seen."

"Anything else you'd like to say?"

"Just tell the kids thanks for the wonderful reception."

"Yeah!"

—(After-performance interview by Indian Staff Reporter, Bill Jarvis)

UNIQUE SOUND—and professional air made the Rooftop Singers' performance particularly enjoyable . . . and afterwards, their sincere praise of the campus and student body would make anyone proud.

S.G.A. Activities

Politicians at the polls, book vendors at their stations, and the S.G.A. gets underway for '64. Besides these vital functions, this group boosted school spirit by sponsoring a dance after nearly every home game and did much to make the average student more active, comfortable and aware.

Rush Week Helps Shape Future

Rush week to the Arkansas State freshman can make a big difference in determining his future for four years. It is a hectic time, one which leaves many with newly-acquired confidence. Others are bewildered in trying to choose one of the five fraternities or four sororities.

YEAH! YEAH!—Entertainers from faraway places take the spotlight to ring out familiar tunes for the ears of rushees.

WHATSA FOR SUPPER?—Anxious rushees perhaps are awaiting an Italian-style spaghetti dinner.

ROSTRUM GUEST—Top-notch speakers like Jim Lundberg are always a part of any good rush party.

HARDY EATER—Rushees seldom depart from a party feeling empty.

SOUND OF LAUGHTER—A common sound during the week.

PICK IT, DAN—Bands of all varieties put the swing in A-State rush events.

PRETTY FACES—Most fraternity parties are brightened by the pretty hosti.

MILLING AROUND—The band plays on as the party ends and rushees reluctantly begin to leave.

LITTLE DEVILS—A devilish skit delights a group of rushees who watch with intense interest.

HELPING HAND—Betty Steinsiek is given gentlemanly assistance after delighting the Pike rushees on stage.

SKITS—prove effective in sorority rush.

INFORMAL CHATTER—Sigma Pi's help make their rushees feel at ease with the age-old aid—friendly conversation.

LIVING HIGH—Sponsors and advisers are well tended and highly appreciated, as they keep proceeding in order.

Greeks End Rush In Last Hectic Week

To be a Greek is to submit oneself to the ultimate in joy and frustration, anticipation and disappointment, untiring drive and total exhaustion. Those who would join their ranks know little of what is in store, nor do they care. Somehow, they feel they know what the answer would be if they asked one if it's really worth it. Just try to find one who says it's not.

CONFUSIUS SAY—Best way to prove hospitality to future followers is to lay the pallet on floor.

WILD WEST—"Awright you guys. I don't care if they are your buddies. Pipe down or you all get thrown out on your cans."

TEN GALLONS—Took a good man back in them days to fill it. Must have had ten-gallon heads.

VOCALISTS—provide a major part of party entertainment, and most, like Charlotte, are very good.

Miss A-State Is Crowned

A long week of fretful anticipation, a flurry of excitement over, "what to wear?" and hairdos, a borrowed formal, and maybe, waking up with an unwanted blemish on Friday morning. And all of a sudden, you're standing under a spotlight, a beautiful creature with a stomach full of butterflies. When it's all over, a crown is passed, an audience is usually well pleased, and a pretty coed can't believe that she's really Miss Arkansas State.

BACKSTAGE—it's gab and last minute touch-ups, and a helping hand for hard-to-get-to places.

ONE MOMENT—and a choice is made.

BACKSTAGE—organized disorganization.

CONFERENCE—M. C. Tommy Thompson, '64 queen Joan Farrell, and Circle K President John Ulmer double check program timing.

PEPSI'S FOR ALL—at the get-acquainted party for all candidates and judges the day of the pageant.

"I'M SHANNON"—says Judi Shannon, popular folk singer, and feature entertainer during the judging intermission.

GL-70—or Colgate or something, but there are a lot of charming smiles to complicate a judge's life.

Miss Phyllis Rutherford

Miss Arkansas State—1965

Queen, Bathing Suit, Formal

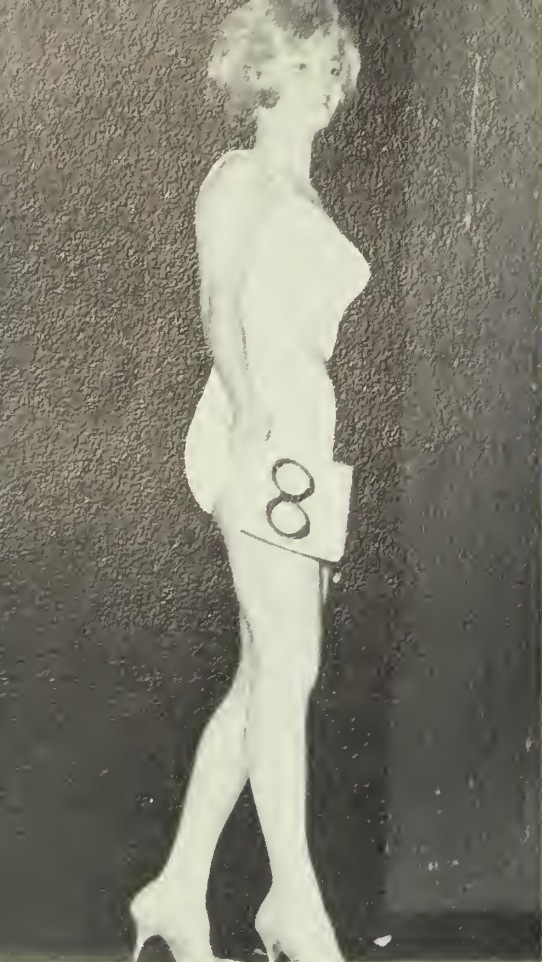

Miss Jan Watkins
First Alternate
Talent Winner

Miss Marcia Harrell
Second Alternate

TOP FIVE WINNER—Charnelsa Schisler is stiff competition in the bathing suit division, as can easily be seen.

QUEEN PHYLLIS—models the formal and poise which gave her the top title, as well as formal and swim suit.

THE OUTDOOR LOOK—Phyllis, an expert swimmer, gives pool instructions during the summer months.

REDHEAD—LaRaye Brown flashes the smile which has won her many honors as a campus beauty.

VERSATILE—Sue Stewart is more than pleasant scenery, as she is the Marching Indian Band feature twirler.

MODERN DANCE—Bettye Holland charms the audience.

VARIETY—is the spice of Betty Steinsiek, last year's talent winner.

DIANE HALSELL—combines exceptional acrobatics into a modern interpretation.

DRAMA—in the form of Joan of Arc's trial won for Jan Watkins the top talent honors.

FIVE HAPPY FEMALES—barely contain their feelings at the end.

ORGANIZATIONS

BEHIND THE SCENES—The hard work that goes into the winner of any prize is not always evident.

A TIME TO HAVE FUN—Being part of a good organization gives a student a chance to take part in many social events.

DOWN TO THE WIRE—There's not much margin for error when the competition is as closely matched as this is.

TALENTED, TOO—Singing is a big part of membership in either a fraternity or sorority.

There's No Way Like The Greek Way

When a freshman first steps foot on a large college campus, his first feeling is one of being lost. All the high school friends are behind, and only strange faces are seen in the beginning. For those students who join a fraternity or sorority, a new feeling of familiarity soon invades the soul and each member of each organization becomes a necessary part of college. Brotherhood, competition with others and hard work toward a common goal are the keys to success for the Greek in a new way of life.

GAB SESSION—Being natural talkers anyway, the togetherness a sorority affords is a heaven of gab for many Greek sisters.

GETTING TO KNOW YOU—Rush is just as important for sororities as it is for the fraternities on campus.

Top honors achieved by AOPi's include flagtag champion, two A-State cheerleaders, one majorette and head-line majorette, Sandy Bone. Sharon Cooper served as president of WAA. The chapter received first place trophy last spring in the LXA Little '500', with LaRaye Brown reigning as queen. Doris Robinson was PiKA Dream Girl. AOPi has two Indian Beauties, an honorary cadet, the Pershing Rifle Sweetheart and the first runner-up to Miss ASC. Kathy Hoffman was named Miss Jonesboro of 1964, with Doris Bone as first alternate. Diane Halsell gained the title of Miss Hospitality of Blytheville, Donna Pinkston holds the title of Miss Hospitality of Trumann. Jan Watkins was presented the freshman scholarship award for having a 4.0 grade point average. Each year the AOPi's sponsor the All-Greek Songfest, always one of the top events on the A-State campus.

Celebrating its 113th birthday this year, Epsilon Delta Chapter of Phi Mu sorority has strived to live up to the standards the years have established. This year the chapter has sponsored such projects as the Phi Mu Playhouse—proceeds of which were donated to Project Hope, Phi Mu National Social Service Project—helping a needy family at Christmas and a Dress Ball. Many honors have been a part of the year—the Phi Mu's won the Sigma Pi Sorority Contest and placed second in the A.O. Smith Contest. In addition, Jeannine McHaney, Julia Ann Oxner and Rebecca Bridges were chosen "Who's Who." Phi Mu's were represented in the fields as well. AWS President was Sally Baker (followed by Mary Anne Bartlett), Mary Nancy Huntsman was president of SNEA, while Jay Moody, Carol Voss and Ann Curtiss were members of SGA, with Mary Anne Bartlett as its secretary.

Iota Theta Chapter

Lambda Chi enjoyed one of its most successful years on campus during the 1964-65 term. LXA won the top award for Homecoming displays, both first and second in the Alpha Gam talent show, first place in All-Greek basketball and first in the AOPi All-Greek Songfest for the fifth straight year. For the fourth year in a row, LXA placed four men in "Who's Who." The fraternity inaugurated the "Jerry Rook Award," which will be presented annually to Arkansas State's outstanding basketball player. Lambda Chi also maintained its blood bank at St. Bernard's Hospital.

Pi Kappa Alpha

Delta Theta Chapter

Delta Theta chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha kept up its tradition of leadership on the A-State campus this year. In intramurals the Pikes placed second in the All-Greek division of football, second in the "A" division of the Pi Kappa basketball tourney and first in the "B" division. On the varsity level, the chapter was represented by Bill Pagano on the All-SLC football team. The Pikes sponsored Miss Phyllis H. who won the title of Miss A-State. Highlighting an eventful social year was the annual Dream Girl Dance held this spring. Pi Kappa Alpha was the second national fraternity on campus.

Arkansas Gamma Chapter

Arkansas Gamma of SPE celebrated its tenth anniversary on campus. The fraternity has led an active campus life. Sig Ep won the Sigma Pi Softball Tournament, teamed with AGD to win the Phi Mu Playhouse and won third place in the Homecoming display. Leon Swihart served as first vice president of SGA, David Cady as senator and three others were representatives. Sig Eps collected $500 for the Heart Fund and gave a Christmas party for underprivileged children. The year was climaxed with the Queen of Hearts Ball. Linda Graham served as chapter sweetheart.

Sigma Pi

Alpha Pi Chapter

Sigma Pi became the first national fraternity on campus in 1948. This year Sigma Pi was well represented in intramural and varsity athletics. The chapter won first place in intramural football, rolling up 169 points to 14 for its opponents. The Sigma Pi's also won first place in billiards, second in bridge, first in bowling, second in golf, archery and free throw shooting and third in swimming. The chapter had the largest pledge class each semester. Social highlights of the year were the Beatnik Party and the Orchid Ball.

Student Solons Help Generate Enthusiasm

Success comes to organizations in many ways. For the 1964 Student Government Association, success came from an active interest and student-orientated planning. These people had the privilege of co-ordinating activities in the massive Reng Center, as well as to provide many student social opportunities. In success terms, the SGA is proud to point to the enthusiasm of the general student body to their sincere, highly effective effort.

SPOTLIGHTED— Part of the SGA's responsibility includes securing popular professional talent, such as the Rooftop Singers above.

FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT—Leon Swihart of Leachville.

SECOND VICE-PRESIDENT—Sally Dennis of Caraway.

BRAND NEW—Sporting equipment for the dormitories was purchased in large quantities this year to boost student participation.

Activities Varied, Purchases Made

Proponents of the New Deal administration kept the student's voice in school affairs effective in '64. A record number of week-end dances and activities were realized, as well as the badly needed purchase of athletic equipment for student use.

REPRESENTATIVES—(seated): Carol Voss, Sharon Cooper, Janice Garrett, Judy Moody, Janna Helms, Ruth Loberg; (standing): John Alderson, Corky Ennis, John Whitney, Bill Winter, Donnie Linn, Jerry McAfee, Paul Madden.

ROTC Honorary Cadets In Action

The honorary cadets of Arkansas State are the bright part of the ROTC. These girls are chosen by a vote of the cadets every spring for the following year. They are obligated to attend the drills every Thursday, and to participate in the parades and other ROTC activities. Each spring one honorary cadet is chosen to reign as queen of the Military Ball. Their purposes are simply to look pretty and add color to the corps.

Cheerleaders Provide Pep

Realizing the constant demand for school spirit around campus, the cheerleaders of Arkansas State are always on the go, promoting this enthusiasm. The girls use most of their energy in organizing pep rallies and parades, putting up posters and banners and especially leading the crowd in letting the various A-State teams know they are behind them all the way at every game.

Herald Work Hectic But Worthwhile

Tex Plunkett usually walks into the Herald newsroom on Monday morning and asks a traditional question: "Do you think we'll ever get a paper out this week?" Viewing the disorder—scurrying reporters, clicking typewriters, flying paper—one would hardly wonder why he asks it. But somehow, a creation arises from the turmoil. Each Friday, the State College Herald is distributed and, hopefully, read. "We've never missed a Herald deadline," Tex says with pride. And his students, while carefully perusing their own stories, are proud, too.

I'M SORRY, JOEL!—Action sometimes gets thick for the Herald staff, as co-editors Joel Gambill and Glenda Daniel can attest.

OH NO, CHARLIE—Tex Plunkett looks up after hearing one of business manager Charlie Wiles' brilliant ideas on how to make more money in advertising.

SPORTS EDITORS—Plenty of copy was available this year for sports editors Larry Wright, Jim Pardew and Jon Long.

KASU

Heading The Indian Sports Network

An impressive year in athletics calls for the best in news coverage, and KASU-FM heads the vast system of stations which carried this year's exciting on-the-spot reports to interested parties all over Arkansas. Always listenable, this college-owned, student operated broadcasting service is a valuable training ground for students majoring and minoring in radio journalism, and provides entertainment in the form of news, special events, music, and public service information. Whenever anything which affects Arkansas State happens, one can bet that KASU has a man nearby.

1965 Is Tomlinson's 20th Year As Head Of Indian Athletics

BILL DAVIDSON

Veteran athletic director J. A. "Ike" Tomlinson has guided Arkansas State's athletic policies since 1946. Before becoming director of athletics, Ike coached football and basketball in addition to his present job as baseball coach. During his 22-year tenure, the Arkansas State sport programs have thrived actively.

Bennie Ellender's second year as head coach at Arkansas State turned out to be the best season for the Indians in 11 years, as the Redmen compiled an impressive 7-0-2 record. The grid successes were partly the result of a rugged rebuilding program started by the coaching staff. When Ellender took over as head mentor in 1963, the Indians were plagued by youth and inexperience. But in 1964 they showed remarkable improvement, recording the second undefeated season in the school's 50-year history. Line coaches Wayne Armstrong and Bill Davidson helped build the strong A-State forward wall. Armstrong has been an Indian coach since 1962. Davidson, a '57 grad of Arkansas State, joined the Tribe staff last year. Don Floyd's first year as defensive backfield coach was a charmed one. His backs contributed to a well-balanced team effort.

INDIAN FOOTBALL

Second Undefeated Season In A-State History Recorded

1964 INDIANS—Unknowing of the fate that lay ahead of them, these 37 members and four coaches of the Indian football team pose prior to the 1964 season which was to be only the second unbeaten campaign in the school's history.

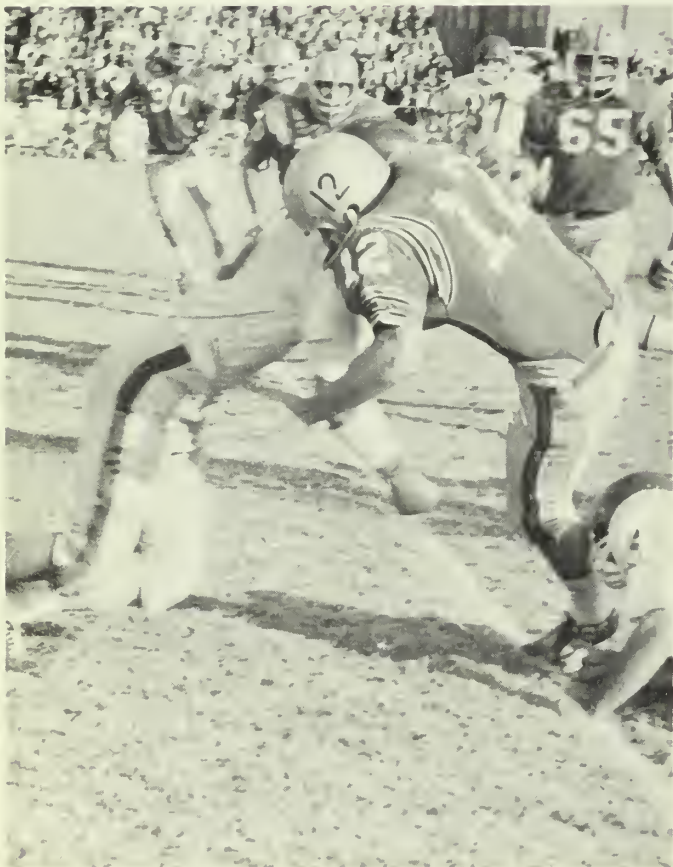

Arkansas State's 1964 gridiron team completed the most successful season since the 1953 Indian team of Frosty England, winning seven games while tying two. It was only the second unbeaten campaign in A-State's 50-year history of football competition. Despite an unbeaten season, the Indians finished second behind Lamar Tech in the Southland Conference's first gridiron war. Both the Tribe's deadlocks came against league opponents Arlington State and Lamar Tech. The Indians were up for consideration as an entry in the Pecan Bowl. Although the Red-men finished second in the Pecan Bowl final ratings, they lost out to SLC champion Lamar and State College of Iowa for the bowl berths. Finishing in a tie for 14th in the UPI final small college rankings, the 1964 Indians proved to be a pleasant surprise to the A-State coaching staff and fans.

BIG RED FULLBACK—Harold Wallin, fullback for the "Big Red," snags a pass from quarterback Gary Everett and prepares for a jaunt downfield.

HEADED FOR A SPILL—Lamar Tech defensive players finally catch up with "Big Red" quarterback Gary Everett after he broke loose for a sizable gain.

KEEPER PLAY—Tackle Bill Harrison prepares to throw a "Mean Green" block for field general Shelby Lee.

BIG YARDAGE—Great second effort carried "Mean Green" fullback Eddie Rickus to 118 yards against Tennessee Tech. Here, Rickus is hauled down after a driving run.

Depth and balance proved to be the key factors in 1964 as the Arkansas State football team racked up the school's second unbeaten season in history. Lively competition between the "Big Red" and "Mean Green" fostered the vital team spirit that lifted the Indians from a 2-6 record in 1963 to a 7-0-2 mark in '64. Coach Bennie Ellender was able to utilize some 25 men, including three defensive backfield specialists. Although the "Big Red" started every game, the unit shared playing time with the "Mean Green." Twelve members of the Indian squad were named to the All-Southland Conference team while line-backing-guard Dan Summers was selected to The Associated Press first team All-American squad. Summers along with end Bill Pagano were All-SLC first team selections. With only six of the 25 top players being seniors, A-State is expected to be an SLC title contender again in 1965.

“Big Red” + “Mean Green” = Victory

Arkansas State 27, Tennessee Tech 0

In the opening game of the season, the Indians set the pace that continued throughout the season as they trounced the Tennessee Tech Eagles 27-0. Staying mostly on the ground, the Redmen used fullbacks Eddie Rickus and Harold Wallin as piledrivers to roll up 378 yards of total offense. Rickus was the leading gainer in the tilt, picking up 118 yards on 17 carries. Wallin plowed for 101 yards in 18 tries. Halfbacks Tommy Reese, Steve Gankiewicz, Benny Winford, Ken Mashburn and Bill Bailey also toted the ball for substantial gains. Both quarterbacks, Gary Everett and Shelby Lee, saw considerable action, and both turned in stellar performances. "The game was well called with both boys showing poise and ability. They mixed the plays well," Coach Bennie Ellender commented.

I'VE GOT IT!—Three receivers struggle to grab a descending aerial. Indian halfback Benny Winford made the catch.

HUSTLING GUARD—Truman Moore, A-State guard, catches up with a Tennessee Tech Eagle. Moments later, Moore made the tackle unassisted. Bill Harrison prepares to head off the runner.

MISSED PASS—The big stretch was not enough by this Florence State receiver as a pass falls beyond his outstretched hands. Indian defender Harold Wallin is battling the defender for the ball. Also closing in for the Tribe is Dan Summers.

Arkansas State 10, Florence State 7

Arkansas State staved off a belated Florence State rally to edge the Lions 10-7 on the margin of Dan Summers' successful field goal in the Indians' second win of the season. Summers booted a 28-yard field goal to give the Redmen a 3-0 lead at intermission. The Indians' only touchdown came in the fourth period when quarterback Shelby Lee passed eight yards to end Bob McCuiston capping a 58-yard drive. Florence rallied late in the fourth period on quarterback Doyle Hill's 17-yard jaunt to cut A-State's lead to 10-7. The Tribe defense came through under pressure late in the game as Florence had four cracks from the 25-yard line. A Lion receiver dropped one pass in the end zone and Indian defenders knocked down two more to preserve the victory. A key play of the game was a desperation 42-yard punt by Gary Everett of a pass that was centered over his head.

Arkansas State 17, Stephen F. Austin 6

Unveiling an effective pass attack, Arkansas State downed Stephen F. Austin 17-6 for its third straight victory. Quarterbacks Shelby Lee and Gary Everett connected on 11 of 18 pass attempts for 156 yards and one touchdown. The other Indian TD and field goal were also set up via the airways. Halfback Bill Bailey paced the A-State receivers, snagging four aeriels that netted 64 yards. Guard Dan Summers added the field goal and two extra points to the Indian tally. A highlight of the game was an astounding defensive stand by the Arkansas State line in the final quarter. The Tribe forward wall halted four Lumberjack scoring attempts from the four-yard line. Linemen Aaron White, H.K. Reeves, Dan Summers, Dave Werner and Mike Berta contributed to a solid Indian pass defense. Eddie Rickus was the leading ground-gainer, covering 27 yards for the Redmen.

Arkansas State 7, Arlington State 7

Arlington State failed to cash in on several prime scoring situations as Arkansas State hung on to salvage a 7-7 tie in the opening Southland Conference clash of the season. The Rebels put on an impressive display of ball control, dominating the first half. Arlington's only pass completion—a 10-yarder—set up a TD from the Indian one in the second quarter. Undaunted, the Indians hit the field for the start of the last half and promptly pushed 78 yards for the tying touchdown. Halfback Tommy Reese went the final seven yards for the six-pointer. The Tribe barely withstood a Rebel rally in the fourth period to stay on the undefeated chart. Total offense for the Indians was 222 yards. Quarterback Gary Everett hit six of the 20 passes to Tommy Clark, Bill Pagano and Bill Michael for 98 yards.

Arkansas State 35, Trinity University 13

Rolling up their most impressive offensive showing of the year, the Arkansas State gridders tumbled Trinity University 35-13 for the Redskins' first Southland Conference victory. Both teams put on a spectacular aerial display, totaling more than 400 yards between them. Tribe passers Shelby Lee and Gary Everett completed 16 tosses for 204 yards while Trinity hurlers connected on 18 aerials for 200 yards. Linebacker-guard Truman Moore blocked two punts and intercepted a pass to pave the way for three Indian touchdowns. On the ground, the Tribe racked up 142 yards while the Arkansas State defense held Trinity to 81. Ken Mashburn and Tommy Reese shared the rushing honors as each ran 35 yards on eight carries. Coach Ellender took advantage of his team's showing and gave his third-teamers a chance at the action.

STRAIGHT AHEAD—Head down and legs pumping, Arkansas State halfback Bill Bailey plows up the middle into a mass of Trinity gridders for short yardage.

Arkansas State 21, Abilene Christian 7

The rampaging Indians made their third sortie of the season into Texas and came away with a 21-7 victory over the Abilene Christian Wildcats. The Indians won the toss and elected to kick off with the wind. On the second play from scrimmage the Wildcats fumbled, and the Indians recovered deep in Wildcat territory. Quarterback Gary Everett passed 16 yards to end Bill Pagano for the score. The "Big Red" held the Wildcats scoreless the first half, but the Wildcats came roaring back in the second half to score after having pounded on the door of the Indians three times inside the 20-yard line. A-State's second TD came on another Everett pass, this time to halfback Tommy Reese. Halfback Billy Joe Bailey tallied the last TD for the Indians on an eight-yard plunge with two minutes remaining in the game.

PUNTING QUARTERBACK—Gary Everett puts his toe into a punt that carried Arkansas State out of a tight situation in the Abilene Christian tilt. Everett, who did most of the punting for the Tribe this year, booted five times against the Wildcats.

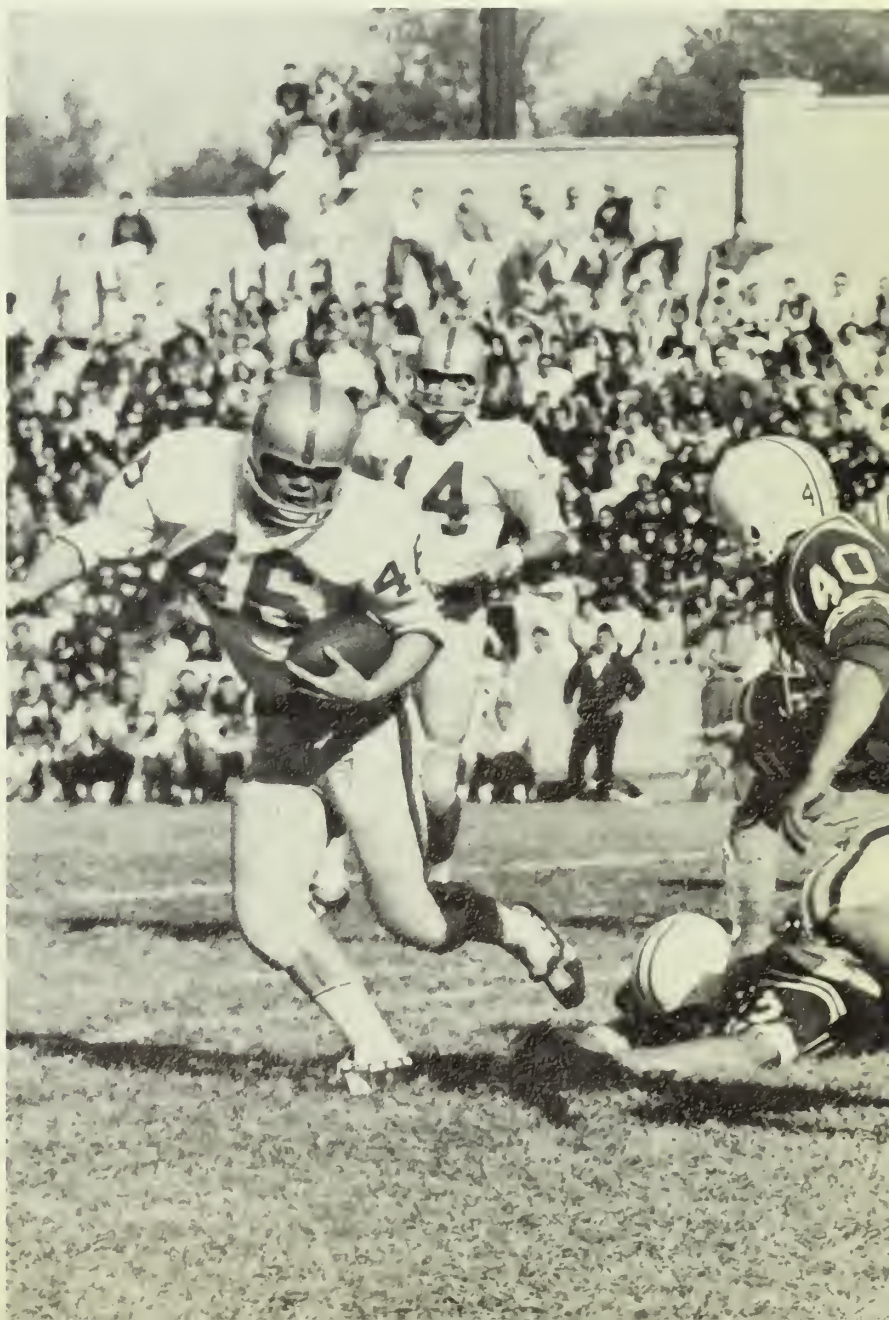

FIELD GOAL RECORD—All-American Dan Summers sent three points and an A-State record through the uprights when he kicked this field goal at Murray State. It was his fifth of the year to set the record.

Arkansas State 17, Murray State 8

Arkansas State returned home boasting a 6-0-1 record after downing the Thoroughbreds of Murray State 17-8. Kicking specialist Dan Summers set a school record of most field goals in a season (5) with a 29-yard boot, giving A-State its only score in the first half and a 3-0 lead. Failing to capitalize on two potential scoring situations, Coach Ellender's squad halted Murray on four plays after the ensuing third quarter kick-off and marched 52 yards for an aerial score covering 15 yards. A-State kicked off and six plays later Dick Ritchey recovered a wild pitch-out setting up another TD on a three-yard plunge by halfback Billy Joe Bailey. Murray State, at this point, began a devastating passing attack led by Thoroughbred quarterback Charles Forrest who completed 8 of 12 for 79 yards and Murray's only touchdown.

Arkansas State 7,

A missed extra point and a defensive stand gave the Indians a slim 7-6 victory over Delta State and a happy ending to the Homecoming festivities. Following a scoreless first half, the Redmen fired up a touchdown march down a muddy Kays Field. Harold Wallin went 18 yards in three plays for the score. Dan Summers added the point after which later proved to be the deciding factor in the game. Guided by quarterback Bob Bain, Delta State soon posted six-points, but the PAT attempt sailed wide and to the right and A-State retained a shaky lead with 10 minutes to play. The Tribe defense dug in to hold the Statesmen and nail down the seventh Indian triumph of the season. Eddie Rickus led A-State in rushing with 42 yards, and Shelby Lee completed three of eight pass attempts to pace the Arkansas State aerial attack.

HEAVY TRAFFIC—Tribe halfback Tommy Reese squirts through a small opening against Lamar Tech for a short gain. The Redmen were tied by the Cardinals 7-7, giving Lamar the Southland Conference title by one half game.

BLOCKERS GROUNDED—Four Arkansas State path clearers have successfully opened up a hole for leaping Tommy Reese against Lamar Tech. Reese gained 56 yards rushing against the Cardinals as the Indians dominated the statistic sheets, but Arkansas State still gained only a 7-7 deadlock.

A 7-7 tie with Lamar Tech in the final game of the year gave the Indians their first undefeated season in 11 years, but the deadlock wasn't good enough to gain the Southland Conference title for the Tribe and Lamar went on to take the league's top honor. The game, a predicted toss-up, proved to be a defensive battle as the first half ended with no score. The Indians came out fired up in the third quarter, took the second half kickoff on their own 36-yard line and marched over the Lamar goal for a touchdown. Harold Wallin carried it in from the one-yard line and Dan Summers booted the extra point. But with 11 minutes showing on the clock, Lamar Tech halfback Harold Lafitte rambled 40 yards for a touchdown. The PAT knotted the score and thwarted the A-State title hopes.

Speight's 2nd Year Gives Indians Tie For SLC Crown

Two successful basketball seasons back-to-back are the products of Coach Marvin Speight's two-year tenure at Arkansas State. In the first year as Tribe cage mentor Speight's cagers finished with an impressive 16-9 record and a third-place finish in the Southland Conference. This past year Speight led the Indians to a 13-9 season and a 6-2 league mark which was good for a first-place tie with Abilene Christian. Before coming to A-State, Coach Speight directed the Junior College Branch at Beebe for ten years. Assistant Coach John Rose helped Coach Speight with the Varsity and handled the Junior Varsity. His JV's racked up a 9-2 record this past year. Rose came to A-State in 1963 and assumed duties as cross-country and track coach along with assistant basketball coach. Rose was also a three-sport coach at Union University before coming to State.

COACH MARVIN SPEIGHT—Under Speight's direction, the Indians have racked up two straight successful seasons in the SLC.

First SLC Crown Captured By 1965 Basketball Squad

Climaxing one of the most successful basketball seasons in Arkansas State history, the Indians tied for the 1965 Southland Conference crown with Abilene Christian. This was the first title of any kind for the Indians in the young league which was formed in the spring of 1962. A-State put together a creditable 13-9 overall record to go with a 6-2 conference slate. After dropping the opening six games on the road, the Tribe rebounded by rattling off 10 consecutive wins and sweeping 13 of the last 16 contests. Against teams of major ranked status A-State was 2-5, while racking up an 11-4 mark with college division opponents. The Tribe's best games of the year came in victories over Central Missouri, East Tennessee State, the Air Force Academy, Abilene Christian and Lamar Tech.

CHIEF BIG TRACK—Jim Fowler appeared at all the Indians' home basketball games. His appearance must have done some good, as the Tribe was undefeated on its home court.

COACH MARVIN SPEIGHT and his Indian cagers posed for this picture early in the season. Ahead of them lay a share of the Southland Conference championship and one of the most successful basketball seasons in recent years.

JERRY ROOK

First Team All-American

A memorable era has come to an end at Arkansas State. All-American Jerry Rook, A-State's all-time leading scorer and most publicized player in history, completed his four-year career this past winter. While the 6-5 redhead was having honor upon honor heaped upon him, Arkansas State basketball was a thriving success. During Rook's four-year tenure at A-State, the Indians compiled a 61-36 record and were invited to participate in the NCAA Southwest Regional Playoffs twice. For four straight years Rook led the Redmen in scoring, compiling a 22.9 average on his 2,153 points. Opponents feared the deadly Rook jump shot and during most of his final two years, he was plagued by two defenders. Not only did Rook's presence aid the Indians directly on the basketball court, but it also lent prestige to the Tribe's recruiting program. Since Rook agreed to play at A-State, three other high school All-Americans have come into the Indians' foal. His name will long be remembered for the seven school records he holds, several of which are certain to stand for years. Yes, the "Rook Era" at Arkansas State has come to an end, but the many fans, players and opponents that knew Rook will never forget it.

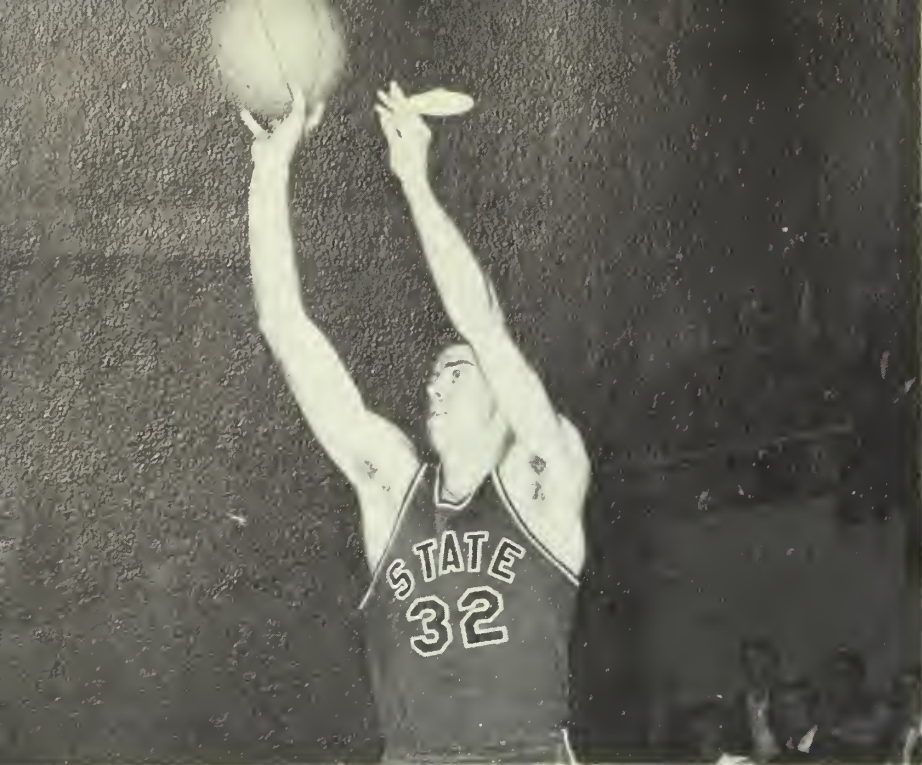

WITH THIS BALL—Jerry Rook, first team All-American, became the first player in Arkansas State's history to score over 2,000 points.

GREAT CAREER ENDS—But the name of Jerry Rook will live on at Arkansas State through the "Jerry Rook Award," which will be presented annually by the Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity to the Indians' most outstanding senior basketball player.

UP AND IN—Senior David Markovich puts up a jump shot against Southeast Missouri. Markovich was later sidelined after a minor operation.

Indians Play

A-State's first six games, all road trips, ended in near disaster as the Tribe returned 0-6. Free throws gave Ohio Valley Conference Champion Murray State a 73-71 victory over A-State in the season's opener as the Indians outscored the Racers 12 points from the field. Hampered by fouls against The Citadel, the Tribe held its own until the Cadets broke away in the second half to win 94-75. After trailing only one point at intermission, the Indians turned cold to lose to East Carolina 84-68. All-American Jerry Rook was injured in the game with East Tennessee. The Indians stayed close until the last five minutes when the Buccaneers burst ahead to win 89-68. A-State trailed North Texas only 34-30 at intermission but could not find range during the second half and lost 70-54. Southeast Missouri led most of way to beat A-State 72-58 to end the road stand.

THE HARD WAY—Mike Burk drives for a field goal despite two Southeast Missouri defenders. Many of A-State's taller men found themselves double-teamed during the season. Burk's height (6-6½) helped out considerably on offense and rebounding.

First Six Games On Long Road Trips

WIDE OPEN—After working his way under the basket, Jack Hays shakes off a SEMO defender and drives for two points. Hays seems to be using his mouth to direct the ball as well as his hand, while three opposing players await the outcome of the shot. Hays was one of two A-State seniors.

BACKWARD DUNK—John Dickson uses every inch of his 6-9 frame to sink a spectacular backward dunk shot. Even teammate Jerry Rook, watching from the background, seems astounded by the feat. "Big John's" basketball antics were a constant source of entertainment for fans.

Rook, Dickson Lead Tribe Comeback

Ten Game Streak Starts At Home

After six depressing losses away from home, the first game in the win column for the Indians came with a breathless 59-57 victory over Southeastern Oklahoma led by Jerry Rook and John Dickson. Uplifted in spirits, the Tribe followed the next night with a 68-64 squeaker over the same team, giving A-State its second series sweep over the Savages in 13 years. Rested from the holidays, the Indians came back after Christmas to fell the Air Force Academy Falcons 73-67. John Dickson, who bucketed 32 points, controlled the backboards for the Indians as well. Jerry Rook, recuperated from sickness and an injury, came back to pace the Indians to 79-72 triumph over Central Missouri by scoring 37 points. The Redskins, showing no signs of their early slump, won their fifth straight game by dumping Delta State 77-64. Dickson was high point man with 21 tallies.

NO PATENT REQUIRED—Although Jerry Rook's jump shot is of an oft-copied nature, the 6-5 redhead needs no license as he pumps in two of his 508 points for the year here against Air Force Academy.

AN ALL-AMERICAN DRIVE—As Jerry Rook dribbles past a Central Missouri defender, cheerleader Becky Scurlock seems to rise to her feet and assist him make his way for the goal. The referee seems petrified by it all.

WILL IT GO IN?—Four Indians and four Falcons eagerly await the answer in the midst of a positioning battle for a possible rebound during the Arkansas State-Air Force game. A full house watched the Indians nudge the service school 73-67.

HIGH FLYER—Determination knits Larry Treadwell's face as he sails above Arlington State players for an arching jump shot. Arkansas State put on an impressive offensive show in the game, trouncing Arlington 110-65.

SLC Play Opens

WHO'S OPEN?—Jerry Rook glances down court to check the Rebels' defensive setup. Apparently the defense couldn't stop the redhead, for Rook rolled up 30 points against Arlington. Rook showed his playmaking as well as shooting ability in the tilt.

OUTTA MY WAY!—Jack Hays appears to admonish a Missouri cager while dribbling down court. Moments later, the Tribe senior passed off to set up a scoring play.

PARDON MY SHOULDER— Unshaken by an opponent's defensive maneuvers, Jerry Rook keeps a sharp eye on the target for a well-placed jump shot.

Wins Continue

Southland Conference play opened in grand style for the Indians as they broke the 100-point mark for the first time during the season with an impressive 110-65 triumph over Arlington State. Jerry Rook ran away with the scoring honors with 30 points. The Arkansas State romp continued in the next tilt, as the Tribe rolled to an 82-51 victory over Trinity. A tight Indian defense, sparked by guard Jack Hays, held Trinity from the floor and opened the way for A-State's offensive efforts. The Redmen turned the tables on East Tennessee State in the next game. The Bucs had downed the Indians in an earlier meeting, but A-State dropped ETS 87-81 in the second game. Coming back in the second half after an early deficit, the Indians beat Southeast Missouri 97-69.

Rook Breaks 2,000-point Mark

HOW CAN HE MISS?—Lanky John Dickson breaks loose under the basket for an easy layup in a thrilling overtime triumph over rival Southland Conference foe Lamar Tech.

Tribe Edges Past Cardinals 99-97 In Overtime Play

The cheers were deafening—a worthy tribute to the Indian squad which had just won one of its most exciting games of the season. But the fans weren't just cheering for the victory. Jerry Rook, the Tribe's red-headed sharpshooter, had become the first player in A-State history to score more than 2,000 points in college play. Ten minutes before, Arkansas State had been on the short end of a 66-61 score. Indian fans shouted, begging for a rally. Two minutes later, they got it. Rook, John Dickson and Mike Burk teamed up on a scoring surge to tie things up. And the score see-sawed to another deadlock as the clock ran out. The battle continued into the five-minute overtime which followed, but in the closing seconds, an anxious Cardinal cager fouled Rook. The Arkansas State senior went to the free throw line, netted two points and sewed up the 99-97 victory.

NO GRIPES PLEASE—Lamar Coach Jack Martin discusses a point with the referee while Indian spectators voice their disapproval.

FIGHT IT DOWN—John Dickson yanks a rebound off the rim against the Lamar Tech Cardinals. Dickson led the Indians in rebounding with 17, helping the A-State squad to take a slim 99-97 victory.

AW, WHAT'S THE USE!—A Lamar Tech player seems somewhat discouraged as Junior Higgins pumps a free throw. He had a right to be. Higgins had a fine average from the charity stripe.

Free Throws End Indian Win String In Abilene Clash

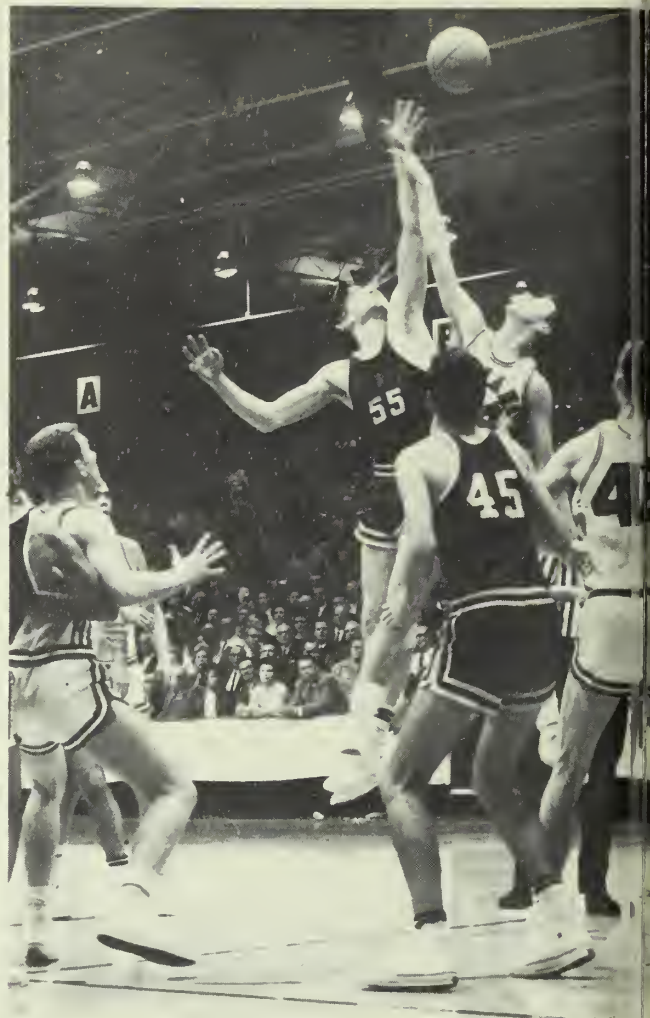

Bad luck on road trips returned for the Indians later in the season, as the Tribe ended a ten-game winning streak with an 83-70 loss to Abilene Christian. The score was close throughout the tilt, as both teams hit near 60 per cent from the field. But an old enemy—personal fouls—gave Abilene more chances from the charity stripe. The free throw curse continued into the next game, as Delta State gleaned 26 points from A-State's 21 fouls for an 80-76 triumph. Again, the Indians were tops in field goals, but even good shooting wasn't enough to take up the slack. Determined to break the road jinx, Arkansas State traveled to Arlington State the next week. It took two overtime periods to do it, but the Tribe, paced by Jerry Rook's 35 points, took a crucial 100-99 win.

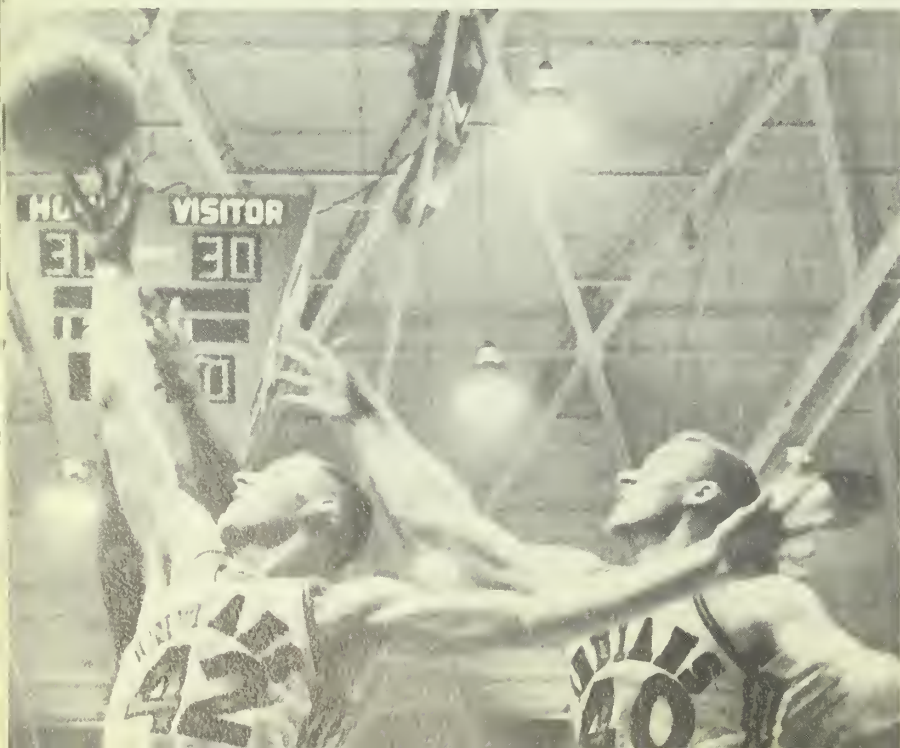

NOT TO BE STOPPED—Jack Hays penetrates a heavy line of Delta State defenders on his drive for a score.

GOING UP—Joe Tomlinson of the Indians and Bob Honeycutt of the Trinity Tigers jump for possession of the ball.

Seniors Lead Offensive Attack

BLOCKING A TIE-BREAKER—Burk blocks a shot of an offensive player as the Indians gain possession of the ball to break the 30-30 knot.

Arkansas State's two senior cagers, Jerry Rook and Jack Hays, led an offensive drive which began early in the game and carried the Indians to a 95-85 win over Trinity University. It was the Tribe's second victory of the season against the Tigers. Teamwork and hot shooting were the deciding factors in the game, as the Indians capitalized on good passes and shot openings to hit 54.8 per cent from the field. Rook hit 25 points and Hays added 20. The Lamar Tech Cardinals found revenge for their hair-line loss to the Indians by thumping A-State 81-74 at Beaumont, Tex. Arkansas State beat the Texans clearly on field goals, getting a 55 per cent average, but personal fouls and free throws thwarted the Tribe efforts as Lamar tallied 17 of 23 charity tosses to A-State's 10 of 13.

A-State Fans Hold "Rook Night"

TONGUE IN CHEEK—Rook prepares to pass off to junior Higgins for an easy basket in route to an 80-72 win over Abilene.

Tribe Cagers Cop 80-72 Triumph Over Abilene Five

"Any honors which may have been bestowed upon me were in recognition for the team, not me personally," Jerry Rook told the fans in a packed Indian Field House. In his hands was a basketball with which he had scored the shots which boosted him over the 2000-point mark. Moments later, the huge crowd which had gathered for the Arkansas State-Abilene Christian basketball game and for a special "Rook Night" celebration, gave the big redhead a standing ovation. But there was still a job to do. The scoreboard above Rook's head showed the Indians' slim 40-38 halftime lead over Abilene. Showing renewed energy, A-State came back in the second half to nail down an 80-72 victory. Although Rook did not lead the team in scoring during the game, he typified his team spirit by leading the squad in assists.

Arkansas State Is Host To Southland Conference Spring Sports Festival; Four Coaches Lead Way

Arkansas State was host to the 1965 Southland Conference Spring Sports Festival as the Indians battled their way toward the All-Sports Trophy. Four men responsible for the fine performance were J. A. Tomlinson, John Rauth, Don Floyd and John Rose. Since 1943, "Ike" Tomlinson has served as an Indian coach in either football, basketball or baseball. Since 1946, "Ike" has been both athletic director and head baseball coach. Rauth, who coaches golf, is a former basketball mentor. His experience and ability have added much to the growth of the young A-State golf team. Floyd is in his second year as tennis coach. He came to Arkansas State from Stuttgart, where he was head football coach for seven years. Rose, a former head track coach at Union University in Jackson, Tenn., has helped bolster the Indian track program considerably.

J. A. "Ike" Tomlinson, baseball

John Rauth, golf

Don Floyd, tennis

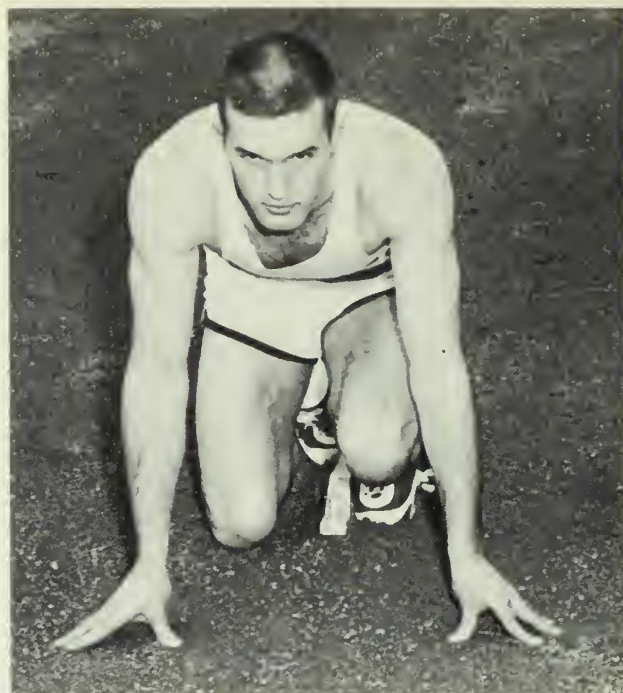

John Rose, track

NEARLY AIRBORNE—James Bishop prepares for an assault on the heights via the pole vault pits. Bishop has been voted "Outstanding Track Athlete" for two straight years.

WAITING FOR THE GUN—Tony Cannon, poised and ready, prepares for a 100-yard dash. Cannon, one of the top A-State cindermen, is also deft in the 220-yard dash.

RECORD FORM—High jumper Jerald Spencer approaches the bar for a practice leap in hopes of perfecting his school record breaking form. As a freshman last year, Spencer shattered the standard with a fantastic leap of six feet, six inches in the SLC meet in Abilene.

GRIND IT OUT—Distance runner Stan Nelson works on developing stamina to run the mile and two-mile.

Track Enters 2nd Year In Southland; Field Events To Be Tribe Strong Point

Entering its second year in the Southland Conference, the Arkansas State track team showed more versatility and stability than the previous year. The track program was still basically in the building stages, and under the leadership of Coach John Rose, progress looks likely. A-State's main strength was in field events, led by David Young, shot-put; Jerald Spencer, high jump; James Bishop, pole vault; and Eddie Pruitt, broad jump and triple jump. The Indians showed good potential in some of the shorter running events, including the 100-yard dash, 220-yard dash and 880-yard run. Leading the Tribe's dashmen was sophomore Tony Cannon. Randy Erwin, a freshman hopeful, showed good potential in the middle-distance romps. Although long distance running was a weaker point, senior Stan Nelson carried the load well in that area.

HEAVE HO—Shotputter David Young prepares to launch what could be another record for the 16-pound ball. Young holds the mark with a toss of more than 50 feet.

PRACTICE JOG—Randy Erwin, who specializes in middle distance runs, takes a trot around the track.

MILE MAN—Richard Wenham begins the first lap of the grueling mile run. Wenham is a top distance runner.

PREPARE FOR TAKEOFF—Eddie Pruitt readies himself for a leap into the sand pit during a broad jump practice.

Cross-Country Squad Compiles 5-1 Record In Successful Year

With only one returning letterman from the previous year's squad, the Arkansas State cross-country team made an outstanding showing in 1964 distance meets. The Tribe compiled a 5-1 record in dual meets, placed third in the A-State Invitational and third in the Southland Conference. Coach John Rose, who inaugurated cross-country action last season, has worked hard to build interest among fans and ability among his players in one of the most grueling and least-glorified sports in college circles. Leading the Indian harriers were Richard Wenham and Edwin Hedgecorth, both freshmen, and senior Stan Nelson (the only two-year letterman). Other lettermen were Eric Wright, Tony Edwards, Richard Pena and Jim Kelley. In the future, Rose hopes to capitalize on a crop of younger runners to build depth and experience.

19 Major Teams On Baseball Schedule

HOLD HIM ON—Jeff Morrow holds a Northwestern runner while Ed Croft winds up.

COUNTS AS A HIT—Jerry Morrow bunts against Northwestern to get on base and advance another runner to second. A-State won 3-2.

PITCHER-CATCHER CONFERENCE—Plans are being made by Ed Croft and Bob Webb as how to take care of the next few batters from Big 10 Conference University, Northwestern.

Arkansas State's baseball squad entered a rebuilding period in 1965 with a team completely void of seniors. By the end of the season, however, even the youngest players had earned the title "veteran." Out of 24 games, 19 were against major teams. The graduation of two All-Conference pitchers left the A-State hurling staff in peril since only one returning player, Ed Croft, had experience on the mound. A solid infield helped fill the gap somewhat. George Glenn, a junior who made All-American in his sophomore year, was a key man in the Indian attack along with All-Conference second-baseman Joe Tomlinson. Other lettermen on the Tribe's firing line included shortstop Bobby Browning, catcher Bobby Webb, first baseman Bill Pagano and outfielders Jim Burke and Ed Hamilton.

FRESHMAN—James Callaway, one of State's promising freshmen, indicates a swing that will help in future wins.

HIT AWAY—Bob Webb, the Indian's fine catcher, shows good form as the season begins.

A-STATE GOLF TEAM—Members of the 1965 Indian golf squad are John Shipman, Curt Murray, Freddie Lewis, Larry Spence, Marvin "Pappy" Hinton and Dennis "Duffy" McAllister. Golf became a varsity sport at Arkansas State in 1964.

FRESHMEN GET ADVICE—Even rainy weather didn't keep golfers from their practice. Here, Coach John Rauth gives three of his newer charges some advice on the finer points of golfing.

LETTERMAN LINKSTERS—These three golfers received letters on last year's young squad. They added a valuable nucleus of experience to the '65 team.

Golf, Tennis Growing In Popularity

New Tennis Courts Add Much To Sport

Golf is a relatively new sport on the A-State campus, but it has been steadily growing in popularity. Under the supervision of Coach John Rauth, the Indian golfers made a good showing at the Southland Conference meet in 1964. Although many of the squad members were inexperienced in college play, the team did a creditable job in 1965, too. Leading the young link team were veterans Marvin Hinton, Curt Murray and Fred Lewis. The Indian tennis team, plagued the previous season by a lack of playing and practice facilities, entered a new era in '65 with a beautiful new battery of tennis courts. Coach Don Floyd had plenty of room for instruction and individual practice sessions, which improved the consistency of play considerably. Arkansas State looks forward to growth in golf and tennis in the future.

TWO YEAR LETTERMAN—Bill Winter prepares to return a volley while practicing on A-State's new courts.

A-State Has Active Intramural Program

Healthful exercise is an important part of college life, and through an active intramural sports program, Arkansas State seeks to provide wholesome extra-curricular activity and entertainment. Intramural competition is scheduled throughout the nine-month term and offers a wide variety of sports—flag-tag football, track, basketball, golf, softball, bowling, tennis, badminton, table tennis, horseshoes, swimming, volleyball, rifle matches and others. All students are eligible to participate in the program. Teams for both Greek organizations and mixed leagues are offered. Trophies are awarded to the championship team in each event. The top prize for which each group strives is the sweepstakes trophy. The winner is determined on a point basis, with the trophy going to the team with the highest number of points for the year.

UNDEFEATED CHAMPS—Sigma Pi fraternity members gather around the championship trophy which they won in intramural flag-tag football competition. The Sigma Pi's bruising offense rolled past its opposition, carrying the team through an undefeated season. Sigma Pi defeated the Statesmen gridders in the finals to capture the trophy.

Board Of Trustees Is Instrumental In A-State Progress

Comprised of five capable members, A-State's Board of Trustees has been extremely instrumental in the tremendous progress displayed in the past and present at the school. Working closely with Dr. Carl Reng, president, the Board is to a great degree responsible for the progressive building plan in effect. The governor of the state each year appoints one of the board members, and the State Senate confirms each appointment, which lasts for five years. The present chairman of the Board is Russell E. Owen of Marked Tree.

A-State's Growth Under Dr. Carl Reng Proves Tremendous

Completing his 14th year as president of Arkansas State, Dr. Carl R. Reng has seen the school grow from one with an enrollment of a little over 1,000 to one of nearly 4,000 ready for university rating. His guidance has been a major reason for such expansion.

CAMPUS SERVICE—Attending numerous events on campus is one of Dr. Reng's primary jobs. Seldom is a noteworthy event held at A-State without the presence of the president.

PROMINENCE—In his role as president, Dr. Reng frequently comes into contact with many prominent people, such as columnist Drew Pearson, who spoke here last fall.

Administration Points To Past, Future

MR. L. CAMERON has served as vice president in charge of business and purchasing since coming to A-State in 1951. In the preparation of A-State's overall budget, Mr. Cameron works closely with President Reng. In addition to this important duty, he has the responsibilities of serving as custodial and disbursing officer for college funds.

DR. N. D. HAZELBAKER, vice president in charge of instruction, is now completing his twelfth year at Arkansas State after coming here in 1953. Dr. Hazelbaker guides the curriculum and instructional program of the school under the guidance of President Reng. He is responsible for the school presenting the best possible education to the student.

MR. ROBERT MOORE, Arkansas State Dean of Students, has one of the most varied jobs on campus. He serves as a teacher, counselor, public figure, judge and representative of the school among other things. Now in his fifteenth year as the dean at A-State, he comes into contact with more different students on campus than anyone else.

MR. RAY HALL, director of field services at Arkansas State, is one of the most-traveled men on campus. As field services director, he meets countless people, including many high school students, all over Arkansas. Mr. Hall cooperates with all agencies and departments of the school in developing a satisfactory public relations program.

Department of Agriculture

Located in an extremely rich farming area, Arkansas State is fortunate in having an excellent agriculture department. Offered majors in various divisions such as agricultural education, animal husbandry, horticulture, agronomy, agricultural engineering and agricultural business and economics, college graduates are well-qualified for diversified occupations in the field of agriculture, ranging from actual farming to soil experimentation. The Agriculture Department is equipped with fine livestock, buildings and machinery in order to successfully train students. The department is especially fortunate in that six of the nine staff members have obtained doctors' degrees.

PRACTICAL APPLICATION—Students in this department learn to use all sorts of office machinery.

HONORARY GROUP—Alpha Kappa Psi includes top male students.

Department of Business & Econ.

Two main objectives of the A-State Business Department are to give the students a basic background in business studies and to send skilled, intelligent men and women into the fields of business and economics. This department is expanding very rapidly, but has been unable to fill the demand for graduates in the field for the past eleven years. The four majors offered include accounting, business administration, business education and economics. It is also possible for secretarial students to receive two-year certificates. Among the organizations sponsored by the department are Phi Beta Lambda, Pi Omega Pi and Alpha Kappa Psi.

FILM LIBRARY—The Education Department is in charge of the huge film library now available at Dean B. Ellis Library.

THANK YOU, SIR—A forced smile greets Dr. Ball as he begins handing out an unwelcome gift.

Department of Education, Psychology

Helping to satisfy the chronic need for well-trained teachers is the major objective of the Arkansas State Department of Education and Psychology. Specialized courses in the various areas of teaching are offered, leading to a Bachelor of Science in Education Degree. The A-State study schedule includes a comprehensive teaching program for sophomore students—a source of valuable experience for those planning a career in teaching. Expanded emphasis on psychology is planned for the growing department, enabling students with interests in social work, guidance and counseling, ministerial training and phases of public relations to obtain proficiency.

STRIKE UP THE BAND—Don Minx gets the band off on a good note.

HOWDY KIDS—An annual project of the Fine Arts Department is the sponsoring of papier mache animals in the Jonesboro Christmas Parade.

Department of Fine Arts

Most educators agree that a well-rounded education should include instruction in some phase of the arts. Providing both basic and advanced knowledge in various fields of creativity is the job of the Arkansas State Department of Fine Arts. Organized to provide courses for both producers and consumers of art-forms, the instructional staff of the department includes recognized artists devoted both to their creative work and to education. Requiring primary courses in musical and visual art appreciation, the A-State department provides workshops and studios for advanced students as well. Majors are offered either a BS or BFA.

DUANE H. HASKELL
Head of Fine Arts
Department
BM, III., Wesleyan
U.; MM, Eastman
School of Music;
PhD, Indiana U.

LONG WAIT—Mr. Farley waits patiently for the finished work of one of his students.

L. W. "TEX" PLUNKETT
Head of Department
of Radio, Journ. & Printing
AB, Ark. State;
MJ, U. of Texas

Students Do The Work

HARD AT WORK—Several college editors are seen working out the various problems encountered on a weekly.

ON THE AIR—Radio Journalism majors have the convenience of their own radio station.

WHERE'S THE G?— Printing is a booming business, and printing majors at A-State get the best of training.

Department of Journalism

"The students do the work." That's the way Tex Plunkett, head of the Department of Radio, Journalism and Printing, describes his formula for teaching. Knowledge gained in classroom work plus practical experience in journalism provide the basis for the department's study program. Responsibility for writing, editing and publishing the State College Herald, A-State's newspaper, lies directly with the journalism students. Student technicians and announcers prepare and broadcast programs on KASU-FM, the campus radio station. Actual work on the College's various publications is a valuable supplement to printing students' textbook studies. For out-of-class activity, the department offers the KASU-FM Broadcasters Club, Graphic Arts Club and Press Club.

JE PARLE FRANCAIS—Special equipment aids foreign language students in their studies.

Department of Language & Lit.

The development of the skill of accurate and comprehensive self-expression is the chief aim of the Department of Languages and Literature. Those majoring in this department may choose from English, French, German, Spanish and theater; and additional minors may be obtained in fields of speech and applied language arts. One of the most popular parts of the department is the drama section. A dramatic group named The Arrowhead Players performs a number of plays and skits during the course of the school year. Another departmental group is the Featherpins, a writing organization open primarily to English majors and minors. A literary magazine is published annually.

LANGUAGE & LITERATURE FACULTY—(seated): Eleanor Lane, Elizabeth Neely, Wanda Walker, Nancy Yarbrough, Joan Hass, Clovita Rice, Adolphina Wuppermann; (second row): C. D. Culver, Mrs. Lucille Broden, Dennis Rhodes, Sue Ellen Crum, William Bennett, Gerald McGough, Alfred Zivers, James Johnsen; (third row): Jean Walker, David Ritchey, Sam Gennuso, Martin Ausmus, Robert Brown, Georgia Clifton, Sara Keller, Dr. O. F. White.

ORVILLE F. WHITE
Head of Department
of Language and Literature
BA, Ark.-State; MA,
U. of Ark.; PhD, U. of N.C.;
graduate work, Mich.
State U.

Expression Skills Highly Stimulated

MODERN AIDS—greatly enhance the problems involved in foreign language studies.

WILLIAM A. WHITEHEAD
Head of Department of
Library Science
BSU, U. of Tenn.;
MS, U. of Ill.

LIBRARY SCIENCE FACULTY—(seated): Ella Mae Thompson, Eleanor Kirks; (standing): James Hansard, Leon Raney, William A. Whitehead.

Atmosphere Relaxed, Pleasant

THE LATEST— One of the newest additions to the new library is the copying machine.

LOADED DOWN—Stacks of books have to be checked in and out regularly.

SEARCH AND FIND—Finding books is a major problem for most students, but Library Science students also have to learn how to put them back in their original places.

Department of Library Science

The Department of Library Science maintains an atmosphere of general learning while educating the students in library science at the same time. A minor is offered in this field for those who wish to gain certification for a school librarianship in Arkansas or prepare for graduate work. The library courses may also be chosen by any student as electives in a general education. With the addition of a number of new facilities in the Dean Ellis Library has been the addition of new members to the staff of the Library Science Department. Under these instructors, students learn all the details necessary to librarians.

DISCUSSION OF STRATEGY—ROTC cadet officers go over plans and last-minute drill instructions.

DIRTY WEAPON?—Inspections like these are always enjoyed by officers but dreaded by the cadets who are the object of such events.

Department of Military Science

Under the direction of Col. Treneman and his staff of Regular Army officers and NCOs, Arkansas State's Military Science Department fulfills its duty of acquainting men students with the fundamentals and opportunities of the Army. Every cadet is assigned to one of six companies, each consisting of three platoons and commanded by a cadet captain. Through the effort of the cadet colonel, his staff and the department, the cadets learn military tactics, history of the Army and manual of arms. In addition, they participate in various parades and inspections throughout the year. For those more militarily inclined, there are advanced courses and a commission upon graduation.

COL. ROBERT A. TRENEMAN
Head of Department
of Military Science
B.S., Iowa State U.

ROTC FACULTY—(seated): Capt. Hershel G. Jones, Maj. William E. Hall Jr., Col. Robert A. Treneman, Maj. Charles B. McCarrell, Maj. Thomas A. Atwood; (standing): Capt. Sidney Crabtree Jr., M. Sgt. James C. White, Sgt. John E. Taylor, Capt. Donald K. Slocombe, M. Sgt. Nick H. L. Hunt, and S. Sgt. Jerry M. Boman.

ROTC Readies Army Officers

LEADERSHIP—Cadet officers of the ROTC get an opportunity to display their leadership ability in drill.

LINUS J. DOWELL
Head of Athletic Department
BS, BSE, NE Mo. State
Teachers; MEd, U. of Mo.; EdD, U. of Mo.

P.E. Courses Varied

RHYTHM—Students in modern dance classes learn all the latest steps.

GET READY—Swimmers are set for race during class.

UP HIGH—Trampolines are objects of much enjoyment for men and women students at Arkansas State.

Department of Physical Education

Along with the emphasis placed on higher mental education often comes a neglect of physical hygiene. At Arkansas State, students are provided with ample opportunity for healthful exercise and recreation through the College's department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation. In addition to complete textbook courses in a variety of sports, the department provides modern equipment for putting the knowledge into practice. Four departmental organizations offer a comprehensive schedule of intramural sports events for both men and women. Yearly twirling and cheerleading clinics are also sponsored by the department.

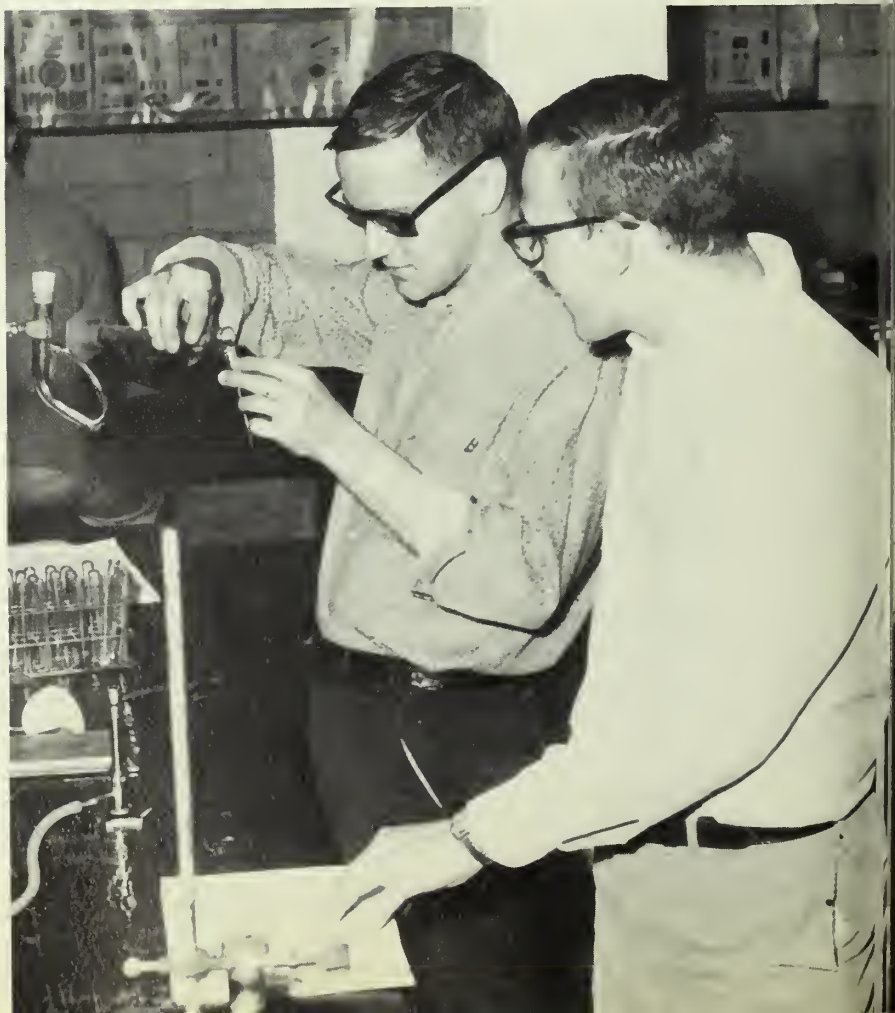

STAND BACK—A Bunsen burner is applied to a test tube hopefully to get the desired effects.

MAD SCIENTISTS—mix one tube after another until they finally hit a discovery, perhaps Love Potion No. 9?

Department of Science

In a society which is becoming extremely science-oriented, the expansion of the Arkansas State Department of Science has kept pace with the times. In an era of unexcelled technical research and development, computers and manned space flights are becoming a part of everyday life. A-State faces this constant challenge with a modern, progressive Science Department. With plans for a new Science Building underway, the department is not only prepared for the present but also is ready for the future. Courses offered include biology, chemistry, physics and mathematics as well as pre-professional programs in engineering, physics, medicine, dentistry, nursing, pharmacy and medical technology.

WARREN W. NEDROW
Head of Science Department
AB, Peru State Tchrs.
MA, Denver U.
PhD, U. of Neb.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT FACULTY—(row one): P. Gwinup, Dr. Dewey Sifford, Joseph Pennington, Myrna Holland, Shirley Fowler, Linda Deck, Dean B. Ellis, Melinda Bennett, Dorothy Bennett; (second row): Donald Avery, Troy Blue, Donna Lynch, Edward Richards, Nancy Sigler, Richard Mitchell, Tom Bishop, William Byrd; (row three): Derl Brooks, Herman Bogan, Hollis Frasure, Dr. W. W. Nedrow, John Kent, Rick Cochran, Howard Moore; (row four): Michael Johnedes, Albert O'Donnell, Earl Hanebrink, J. B. Sheofee, Elmer Mayes, Edward Bennett, Charles Davis, Tom Trevathan, Baird Keister, Marshall Matthews.

Emphasis On Discovery Concepts

SETTING UP—Engineering students are almost ready to try their luck at surveying in a practical field experiment.

ROBERT L. MARTIN
Head of Department of Social Science
BA, Texas Tech. College;
MA, Texas Tech. College;
PdD, U. of Okla.

Heading Objective Culture Study

TURNABOUT—fair play when class is over and students take issue with a professor's opinions.

HERE IT IS—Studying the earth and its characteristics through modern maps can be interesting.

FORCEFUL SPEAKERS—are frequent visitors to social science organizations.

Department of Social Science

Acquainting the student with his world and its people is the primary goal of the Social Science Department. Another main aim of the department is to prepare him for varied vocations in the area of governmental work, social work and in public schools. Majors are offered in history, political science, home economics, sociology and social science in this wide area of study. Organizations which are sponsored by the Social Science Department include Pi Gamma Mu (an honorary society), the Home Economics Club, International Relations Club, Sociology Club and Social Science Club. Classes are housed in a recently renovated building.

Classes Are Necessary, But then, A Time To Let Off Steam

What about that free hour between classes, or that lazy Tuesday afternoon when the demands of the classroom have temporarily been met (or delayed)?

EXUBERATION-A helpful safety valve for student tensions.

Hundreds of persons use the Reng Center to ease worries.

Visiting alums would find A-State's campus life basically the same despite major changes in the school geography. Students still love to hurry up term papers and cut classes as they have for as long as these things have existed, especially when a dorm or intramural football game awaits, or when one's head is crammed with thoughts of tomorrow's date. And then there is always the desire to lock oneself in the room and sleep for a solid week.

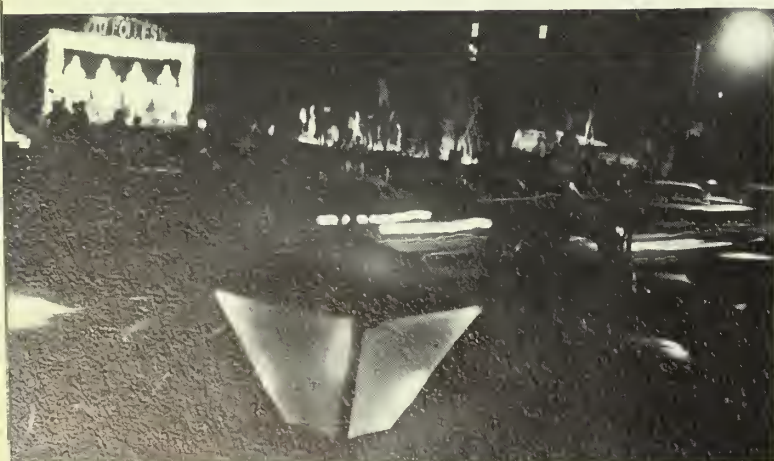

For those who desire atmosphere to flavor their conversations with the opposite sex, a quiet spot is never hard to find.

DECEPTIVE QUIET — To the casual observer, all is quiet on the intramural front. In seconds, the scene will explode into screams of joy or disappointment.

Personalities Blend Toward A Common Goal

NIGHTFALL—The displays of another successful Homecoming are ready for the viewers.

A new, sometimes confusing life; a life away from home and family, away from friends who may themselves be gone when you return--but then, a new, exciting life, too.

DEMANDS ARE MADE—Things are expected of a person as an incoming freshman that may seem useless at the time, but as the years pass, the students learn to make demands of themselves. Orientation acquaints the new scholar with a general understanding of school policy, as it affords a chance to make new friends.

PRIDE AND LABOR—If the new student is fortunate enough to be selected as a member of high caliber organizations, he can apply himself fully to the success of these groups. Soon enough he will turn the reins over to newcomers who will, (in his opinion), be twice as "green" as he was.

Juniors Class Of '66

BUSCH STADIUM—Members of the Marching Indians root for the Cardinals after their invitational performance early in the year.

LAST-MINUTE CHECK—Director Minx spots small changes in formations prior to the St. Louis exhibition.

Education Is Everything You Do In College

Genius is a gift of the Gods, but talent is our affair--or so goes the old saying. Whatever a person does, he can learn to do better through contact with other people and the healthy exchange of ideas which results from this contact.

FEMALE ATHLETICS—Many coeds at A-State, both freshmen and upperclassmen, take part in women's intramurals. These participants are competing in the long jump during a track meet.

THE LONG STRETCH—Letterman Walt Tomsic practices a tennis serve for a coming match.

‘A Panorama’

*A fascinating game of new things to do,
new people, fresh ideas--Arkansas
State in the Fall. Yours is the choice to work, play, watch or meditate.*

High tension and sports fever, especially in the fall of the year causes many to speak of A-State as a vast panorama of activity. Obviously, these students have discovered the other side of college education. Students pictured here throw themselves into the Homecoming spectacle by planning displays, as well as participating in the actual game activities. Others simply use this season to relax and take a breather from the grind of the first nine weeks, or plan activities which hit at a lightning-fast pace toward the end of the semester.

PADDLIN' AND STRUMMIN'—A great way to spend a warm spring afternoon.

QUESTION OF YEAR—Just who is Ralph Strickland anyway, a demand made many times.

Suddenly It's Springtime

SPRING PLAY—The Drama Department's spring production of "Bell, Book And Candle" was a big hit like the year's other plays.

OUTDOORS TYPE—Somehow, pretty girls and springtime seem to go together. It's no disadvantage that the warmer it gets, the more you see of them.

TIME OUT—Showboat Hall of the famed Harlem Globetrotters, who played at A-State this spring, relaxes with the fans.

Indian Staff Members Are Special

What kind of a person works on a college yearbook? Not just anyone, you know! First he must qualify. He must be able to smile wider, lie whiter, run faster, stay up later, smoke more, sleep less, write faster, make more mistakes, admit less mistakes, and cut more classes than anyone on the campus. He is an integral part of an organization dedicated to a cause and the near self-destruction that goes with that cause. He is distractingly idealistic, and makes terribly poor company at certain times of the year (like deadline days, for instance). If you happen to see one of these poor souls, please treat him kindly. He is probably under the delusion that maybe he has helped put out a fine yearbook. Please agree with him . . . and watch him grin.

ART EDITOR—Heather Rust of Hot Springs has taken care of the artwork for The Indian.

PHOTOGRAPHER—Mark Crow has served as assistant photographer. He's the third member of his family to serve The Indian in a vital position.

CLASS EDITORS—The maze of student pictures was handled this year by Nancy Kemp, LaRaye Brown and Kay Clements.

"The Tail Gate"

The last pinkie having struck the last key, and the last stained hand having jerked the last dripping print from the developer—it is time now for a few wry comments, (however uninspired they might be at the time).

A wise man once noted, "Praise is like the smoke of a strong cigar: you can savour it, but if you breathe it in, it will make you dizzy." At the risk of suffocating so many fine people, I would like very much to praise them for what they have done for the 1965 Indian. Often one wonders, "Why does the editor always say, 'if it wasn't for so-and-so, we wouldn't have ever been able to get such-and-such done?'" Quite sincerely, it is so dramatically true, especially in this case, that I can only nod and say the same. Top position on my gratitude list goes, appropriately to Mr. Tom Manning, the sponsor of the book, and the gadfly to which the entire credit for a completed yearbook may be directed. His friendly encouragement proved invaluable in the dark hours . . . and his wit and humor was as helpful as the occasional size 11 footprint on the hindside of a certain editor. Roy Ockert, assistant editor, is next, as it is his stamina and tremendous drive that enabled us to present this book to you now. He will take the reins next year; you can expect a top-notch job from him . . . and he'll probably be twice as efficient as I ever hoped to be. Head photographer Phil Pickle packs his bag this year, but he leaves behind four years of great photography and thankful editors. I long ago quit worrying about Phil's future success; anyone who knows him has, too. Mark Crow takes his place, and has already shown that he can make it big in this job, (look at the section on the snow, for instance). Bill Winter will also be gone, but we couldn't lose him to a prettier new boss. Newcomer Jill Valenteen did wonders with the layouts in the book. It's impossible to believe that she'd had no previous experience. Charlie Wiles, second-year editor of sports, along with assistant sports editor Dan Stracner gave this section the readability and emphasis that it so well deserved this year. Copy was no problem, in the capable hands of Linda Graham, Cathy Smart, Kay Lynn Coleman, Gene Williams, and Kathy Besseau. And just as important was the class section by Kay Clements, La-Ray Brown, and Nancy Kemp. Heather Rust added personality with her artwork; and the picture was very much complete. Proudly, I can say that I will never forget or be able to repay these people. It is to them that Arkansas State owes this, the 1965 Indian Yearbook.

And for the seniors, the road ahead. "Let the light of the past shine over your shoulders, not in your eyes."
